

MERRILL MONTGOMERY.

"Buck" was not allowed to play till his Senior year, but came out regularly and made good, although he did not show his best form till late in the season. In the last few games his work probably equals, if not eclipses, that of any other player representing a Denison team in recent years. His ability was not always noticed, because he was seldom called upon to carry the ball, but rather used his strength in making a way for others and helping them through the line. No one ever got past him either, and he saved what looked like a sure touch-down in the Reserve game. He played at half and full-back.

WALTER LIVINGSTONE.

This was "Livie's" first year with the team, but he has firmly established himself already. He played at full-back most of the season, and while his work was never of the grand-stand order, his presence in a game was always felt. We hope to have him with us three more years, and predict a brilliant future for him.

WILLIAM KING.

While this "Bill" is not so heavy as Ellor, nevertheless he made an excellent partner at the other tackle. He won fame in the Reserve game by drop-kicking a goal from the forty-five-yard line, a feat which is seldom seen in these parts. He was cheerful and jolly under all circumstances, and was the best-natured player on the team.
