

The English Language

"The finest words in the world are only vain sounds if you cannot comprehend them."

The world of tomorrow will be a world of new ideas. And yet the greatest ideas will lie unborn in our minds if we are unable to communicate them to others. Without the knowledge of the writings of previous generations, and without the ability to organize our own thinking and express it in our own language, we would find the unknown future becoming, for us, the unknown present. An understanding of the English language is the foundation of our venture into tomorrow.

CHARLES BOWERS
RUTH CLIPPINGER
VIRGINIA KECK

EMILIE BULLOCK
ANNA HAMLIN
HAZEL KOPPENHOEFER

VIRGINIA BURKE
ENOLIA HEILE
ALMA MARNI

HELEN PAPNER
INEZ STENGER
FERN WHITE

MARY POLLARD
RICHARD THORNBURY
MARYBETH WYCOFF

ARIA SCHAWWE
JACK WHITAKER

