BLAST OFF!!

As one journey ends, a new one begins. Our four year venture powered with knowledge, controlled by steadfast hands, and guided by a skilled crew is coming to a close. We are about to "blast off" once again; this time to face the world. Being our own "pilots," we must learn to face hardships. The "wind" at times may take the "ship" off course, the "light" may become dim, or a "meteor" may spring from nowhere to shatter and shake us; but with knowledge, self-reliance, and confidence, we will be able to conquer these troubles. Now that the last minute check of "instruments" and "fuel" has been made, and the way been cleared, we are ready and eager to begin our journey to new and distant "planets."
