Students like these learn valuable trades for use in later life.

TRADE SHOPS LAY GROUNDWORK ALSO PROVIDE AID FOR LATER LIFE

Shop courses are offered to all students of Hughes High School, who enjoy this type of course, or who plan to follow a trade upon high school graduation. All the shops are adequately equipped.

Electricity projects being completed.

Trade courses available are electricity, metalwork, printing, and wood-working. All of these courses have a Jr. High introductory course, the purpose of which is to acquaint all boy students with some shopwork.

Junior High students taking a basic course.
