Hughes orchestra has been a great asset to the school. Not only does it provide music for the various activities, but it offers a great opportunity for the students desiring a musical education. Any Hughes student wishing to learn to play a wind, reed, or string instrument has the opportunity to do so. Students gain a valuable knowledge in the care of and the techniques in playing instruments, in the appreciation of good music, and in the lives and works of great composers. Participation in the Hughes Merry-Go-Round is one of the most important productions of the orchestra. It calls for great sacrifice of homework when practicing into the evening.
