

Bev Shuck hopes for a strike to top her opponent's score.

DOWN THE ALLEY AND WATCH 'EM FLY

St. George's Lanes buzzed with activity on Mondays after school during the bowling season.

The adviser, Miss Mary Busser, taught the girls the fundamentals of avoiding the gutter and the pin-boys to make them better able to match the boys in the intramural competition.

Instructions seemed to pay off as Pat Bailey, sports leader, scored a high game of 181 and maintained an average of 139.3.

There were eight teams competing. High team was the Wolverines and they could have easily introduced a few candidates for Championship Bowling.

Which Is Which?

FLUID MOTION

This year, modern dance was under the supervision of Miss Diane Mergler. Practice was held every Monday after school with Janet Maynard as sports leader.

Miss Thomas, an instructor at the University of Cincinnati, worked with the girls on technique. Following the instruction at U. C., each high school presented a dance for a dance symposium held on February 20 at Taft High School.

After practicing basic dance movements and patterns to music of all kinds, the girls wrote and presented a dance of their own.

Using the knowledge and experience gained through the instruction from U. C. and the individual dances, the girls pooled their efforts in a presentation in which all thirty participated.

Standing, Left to Right: B. Phelps, J. Matherly, V. Cuyler, C. Elwood, R. Stahlmann, E. Menke, J. Kappner. Kneeling: Y. Williams, M. Carter, C. Parker.

