

Art Plays Its Part

Hughes takes much pride in its outstanding Art Department. To give the prospective artists a chance to show their talents, the results of their work are displayed on the second floor, across from the library.

Outside of their regular class work, many students take well-deserved credit for the beautiful decorations that appear throughout the corridors and in the front hall at Christmas-time. They are also responsible for the attractive scenery and stage settings for the different plays and the Merry-Go-Round, which are presented by the students each year.

Members of the advanced classes of Miss Frances Adomeit do the art work for the Hughes Annual.

FRANCES ADOMEIT
JOHN MICHAEL
MARCELLA SCHROTH

Joe Hurley and Judy Rissel arrange the display board in Miss Marcella Schroth's art room.

In the Cultural Life of Hughestown Citizens

Mr. John Michael explains
a decoration to his class.