

Health and Driver Education

Give Variety to Curriculum

JEANETTE NURRE
LLOYD WILLIAMS

In Miss Nurre's health class, Carolyn Burwell takes her turn making her foot prints.

Health, a requirement in the tenth and twelfth grades, teaches students proper procedure for taking care of themselves in various emergencies. First aid instruction, leading to a Red Cross certificate of competence in emergency assistance, is given with a course in home nursing for all types of diseases and injuries. This gives Hughestown citizens an excellent basis for maintaining the good health of family members in their homes of the future.

For one semester, students receive instruction in driver education. These classes teach the motoring public of tomorrow safety rules, proper driving techniques, basic mechanics of the automobile, and its proper care. It is the hope of the teachers that the students will be better prepared for the future because of instruction in health and driver education.

Victor Moore gets a reaction test in Mr. Williams' driver education class.
