

For Hughestown citizens to serve their city best, their schedules must contain some recreational activity along with scholastic work. During these periods they have a chance to express themselves and gain confidence by this expression. They create beautiful music as their voices blend with over 100 others in senior choir; they learn to project their emotions and feelings by work in the Merry-Go-Round and the annual dramatic production; they struggle with deadlines and space restrictions in work on publications; they assume new responsibilities and independence as student assistants. Because of these "extra" activities, they grow into mature, well-rounded citizens of their community.
