

These three years are the years to prepare and practice for the future. Junior high students must learn how to observe the traditions and uphold the ideals of Hughestown. They must assume responsibilities and carry them out to their fullest ability.

It is necessary that they study hard in order to be ready for more exciting and varied programs. Now is the time that they become members of "junior" clubs and teams to prepare themselves for positions of leadership in the civic activities of Hughestown. Enthusiasm and interest in the junior high years are good indicators of future success.
