Track Team Traditional Terror in Competition

The Hughestown track team, led by seven returning senior lettermen, is looking forward to another successful season. This year's edition of the "cinder stompers" seems to have a more balanced attack than the teams of previous years. Last year's team was led by and depended on Scott Tyler for most of its points, but the whole picture is changed in one short year. Tyler has graduated, but in his place are very many fine competitors that are sure to carry the banners of Hughestown far and wide. The team hopes to be much stronger in the field events this year, with Charles Bohrer, Richard Boehm, and Ed Bergsmark putting the shot. Throwing the discus for the Big Reds will be a very talented Bob Banes, who has hopes for another fine season.

In the past, the Hughestown track team has been noted for its strength in hurdles and sprinting. This year Hughes is equally strong with Captain Elliott Williams leading the way on the hurdles and Jesse Hodges breaking the tape in the 100-yard dash. Charles Braddock is looking forward to the 440-yard dash while Tom Farrell, Len Cavens, and Ken Sloan are slated to take care of the distance running, principally the mile and half-mile. The prospects for the high jump look very good with Bob Rollinson and Elliot Williams both returning from last year's team.

Coach Richert, who is celebrating his twenty-fifth year as track coach at Hughes, expects the boys to have the desire to put the Hughestown team on top!
