

Hughes Honor League is a service and honor organization for Senior girls. In the spring of their junior year the girls with a "C" average or higher are invited to join. The club elects the fifteen members of its Executive Board, which handles all business during the following year.

The first week of the fall term, fifty of the girls as Freshie Aids with bright red arm bands, direct students around the school and soon the Honor League "Big Sisters" give a party for the girls new to Hughes. After selling candy apples for a week, the club prepares Thanksgiving Baskets for needy families. The annual Christmas Tea brings many former teachers and members back to visit and the Fashion Show in March reveals Easter styles as well as prom dresses. Besides the service they do around the school, the girls go to the County Home or a hospital with goodies and cheer for the patients. The spring breakfast and the installation of officers are colorful sights with the girls in their pastel dresses. The picnic for both the old and new Executive Boards ends the list of the activities. The sponsor, Miss Aria Parke Schawe is always there to help the girls and keep things going, and all through the year the girls strive to live up to their motto:

To do the thing I know is true,
And should not be ashamed to do,
To help some other girl to see,
The thing that so appeals to me.

Honor League

Retta Perry proudly models her spring suit in the Annual Scholarship Fashion Show.

