At publication time, the Big Red racketeers, under Coach Burley Grimes, were beginning another season of play. The outlook for the team is bright, as the squad is strengthened by the return of senior lettermen Doug Lane, Russ Smith, Art Fuller, and James Joshua. Also on the team are Dave Ridge, Larry Brown, Dan Bartholemew, Bill Moore, and Jack Baker.

With the coming of spring, the golf fever hits followers of the sport everywhere, and Hughes is no exception. The Hughes golf squad is capably advised by Mr. Morgan Jones, a faculty member and professional golfer. The squad consists of seniors Tom Mueller and Phil Werle; juniors, Chris Rennegarbe and Fred Wescoe; and a lone sophomore, Dave Curry.

Russ Smith and Coach Grimes talk about tennis.
