

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkey display just one of the many souvenirs brought back from the Seattle World's Fair, which they visited last summer.

Teachers Plan For Future

Ambitions, hopes and plans for the future play a part in a teacher's life. Mr. Prior's plans for the future include a summer marriage. Mrs. Hamberg and Mr. Jones with their families plan future family activities. Mrs. Deutsch hopes that the future will bring greater success in her jewelry-making. Mr. Warner has an unusual wish for the future. He hopes for "a skeleton of some remote ancestor in every closet."

Hughes teachers look forward to their continued years beneath the heights of the tower. They, too, feel pride concerning Hughes, now, as well as in the future. Some are Hughes graduates, and all hope that the tower will linger in our hearts and memories for countless years beyond 1963.

Paul Ritchie
Business

Frank Rolfes
Physical Education

Ann Rubenstein
Home Economics

Aria Parke Schawe
English

Esther Schwach
Social Studies

David Seim
Science

Theodore Siddall
Business

Samuel Skurow
Business

Annette Stern
English

Harold Stier
Mathematics

Howard Thomas
Science

Mary Warden
English