

This year the tower became more than a symbol of beauty and knowledge. Some of the rooms have been converted to gyms which are used for the intramural wrestling program.

This gargoyle holding a book stands for education. Seated on his perch, he reminds us to keep pursuing knowledge.

Double take? No, it's just two views of our scholastically-minded friend in one of the corners of the new building.

