

Counseling-Vital Link Between Today and Tomorrow

The Hughes counselors play such an important part in shaping many lives, that this year another counselor has been added to the previous staff of four. This gives each counselor more time with individual students. The counselors have the task of directing the student who is having difficulties either at home or with schoolwork. They aid the student in his search for his future, in his preparation for this future, and in his selection of additional education or training which is needed.

Mr. Stephens Directs Senior High

Hughes is proud of her assistant principal, Mr. Edwin Stephens, now in his third year here.

Mr. Stephens, a favorite of the students, says that he is very happy at Hughes. He believes that the fine reputation of Hughes is well-earned and urges all students to maintain it.

Mr. Stephens helps Beth Coffey keep the record of Savings Stamps sold every Thursday.

Discipline Stressed By Mr. Hannum

Mr. Harry Hannum, serving in his second year as junior high principal, believes that good discipline is as important as anything else in the education of junior high school students. If discipline is encouraged and accepted early, then senior high school teaching will be more effective.

Mr. Hannum and Mike Perry discuss Mike's future plans.
