Tausia, Last to Bow Out

Now in its 35th year of existence, Tau Sigma Chi, or Tausia, is the last sorority left at Hughes. When the Alpha chapter was first organized, the founders of the club set high standards of honesty, scholarship, integrity, and friendliness for membership. Tausia's colors are black and gold, and the pin is a black triangle with a gold "T" and gold border on which are mounted three pearls.

The Tausias show their interest in the community by participating in charitable activities, such as selling Easter lilies for the crippled children, donating a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family, and furnishing a layette for a less fortunate child.

The social activities of the year included a Christmas formal, a mother-daughter picnic, slumber parties, hayrides, a Spring formal, and a city-wide convention with the other chapters of Tausia.

The girls take special pride in their Mothers' Club, which helps the girls with financial problems. It serves as a social club for mothers of Tausia actives.
