Practical Values Realized From Health and Driver Training by Tenth, Twelfth Graders

Health, a requirement in tenth and twelfth grades, presents sufficient anatomy for the student to understand the basic structure of his body and enough physiology to understand its functions. First-aid instruction, given with a course in home-nursing for all types of diseases and injuries, teaches students proper procedure for taking care of themselves in emergencies.

Interested students who are sixteen years of age and have taken a course in driver's education may take driver's training for one semester.
