Art Students Develop Good Taste as Future Consumers

With the exception of Central, Hughes is the only Cincinnati high school that offers arts and crafts together. This makes it possible for students to receive a well-rounded experience in art. In well-staffed and well-equipped art rooms, students in the seventh through twelfth grades receive direction and guidance in various art forms and materials.

The Art Department keeps hall bulletin boards and display cases well-filled with samples of student work. Art students provide beautiful decorations throughout the school.
