

Appreciation of Good Music, One Cultural Aspect of Learning

Rat-a-tat-tat! The drums are sounding in Room 325. Down the hall can be heard the Senior Choir rehearsing for another concert. Strains of a lively tune come from Room 302-A.

In the instrumental and vocal departments at Hughes, students learn to appreciate good music as well as understand the basic fundamentals. Parents and friends have the opportunity at Christmas and in the spring to enjoy concerts. This year members of the ensemble sang at the lighting of the Christmas trees on Fountain Square.

Mr. Peter Ayer, Choral Music; Miss Josephine Barker, Choral Music; Mr. Gilbert Curtis, Instrumental Music.

"Let's warm up," says Miss Barker. "Do re mi fa so la ti do!" Boys and girls at Hughes do a lot of pretty singing.
