

Tommy Shaw, Pat McNeely and Wanda Collins check for ways to improve the Gargoyle.

Staff Learns, Practices Principles of Journalism

The Gargoyle staff publishes the bi-weekly school paper. Every other Wednesday the students of Hughes look forward to reading up-to-the-minute news and the latest word on fashions, cars, and entertainment.

A few members of the staff, along with Mr. Stephens, went to Columbus for a state-wide conference. Besides having a great deal of fun, they brought back new ideas for the Gargoyle.

For a week this summer, Bill Waltz went to Ohio State and represented the city of Cincinnati at a conference. Several college professors lectured the representatives on principles of journalism and journalism as a career.

The school appreciates the fine work that Mr. Stephens does in advising the staff.

"Very good!" says Mr. Stephens to Bill Waltz the editor.

"Study the editorial on smoking, Emma Beecroft and Jean Truss," urges Mr. Stephens.

