

"Which do you like better?" Sandie Ritter, assistant business manager, asks the editors, Karen Moore, Sylvia Ewing, and Judy Matheis.

Once in a while the advisers get together just to talk and discuss the latest plans for the Annual. They are: Miss Adomeit, art adviser; Mrs. Long, business adviser; and Miss Reynolds, literary adviser.

Cooperation, Hard Work Produce Good Annual

Headed by Sylvia Ewing and Leon Pierson, the ANNUAL staff consists of three groups: the literary staff handles pictures and written copy; the art staff assists with lay-out and furnishes all art work; the business staff manages all financial matters. Twenty-five staff members, all seniors, produce the ANNUAL, with the help of the advisers, Miss Reynolds, Miss Adomeit, and Mrs. Long. Mrs. Long, new financial adviser, succeeds Mr. Clyde Hall, who retired last June after many years at Hughes.

The '65 ANNUAL first took form at preliminary staff meetings last June. Now, after a year of work (and fun too!), "Keys of the Castle" is a reality.
