Key to Perfection—Talent, Training, Practice

Always willing to help, Miss Barker gives a little extra encouragement to Michael Wilson and Carolyn Matthews.

Membership in Junior High Choir, under the direction of Miss Josephine Barker, inspires the students of Hughes Junior High School to fuller participation in good music and greater appreciation of it.

Each year Miss Barker holds auditions to choose seventh and eighth graders who like to sing and who have voices capable of benefitting from the training received in eighth and ninth grade choirs. With daily practice and many opportunities for concerts at school assemblies and in public programs, choir members learn a great deal of music and develop poise on the stage. Many advance to Senior Choir, and some eventually prepare for a career in music.
