

Work of Three Assistant Principals, Ever So Valuable

A V.I.P. known to everyone at Hughes is our Mr. Hobson, senior high assistant principal. He is kept busy by taking care of attendance, enrollment, and student activities. His main satisfaction, however, comes from working with the senior class, to whom he gives invaluable guidance throughout the year.

In many ways, Mr. Jones, the administrative assistant principal, furnishes leadership for the smooth operation of the school. His many responsibilities include curriculum-planning, teacher appraisal, and providing students with textbooks and lockers.

Mr. Stillwell is the popular assistant principal of the junior high section. His duty is to prepare junior high students for their years in the senior high school. The friendly relationship between himself and the students in both junior and senior high makes him one of the best-liked administrators at Hughes.
