

"Cruising down the river" is the theme song of the Skurow Family on a lazy Sunday afternoon. All agree that boating is great fun.

Right: This interesting antique calendar clock has been in Miss Lovell's family for a long time. Below: Mr. Talmadge, student teacher, makes like Napoleon!

Variety of Interests—Boating, Antiques, Speaking

Co-workers at Hughes spend their out-of-school hours in many different ways. All enjoy a variety of hobbies and engage in interesting activities. Others beside Mr. Skurow are boating enthusiasts and spend some of their leisure time on the river. Fishing, camping, and golf also attract many of the faculty men. For some, it means active participation; for others, it means teaching or supervising those who wish to participate. Everybody at Hughes knows about Mr. Kalchek's work with boys and Mr. Morgan Jones' popularity as a golf pro. Mr. Miller's great interest is the Cincinnati Royals.

Miss Lovell takes great pride in her collection of antiques, which her friends admire, too.
