

Season Overview

The year for the girl's reserve basketball team was a decent one. Starting off rough, the reserve team finished strong. The team worked hard and fought in every game that they played. No matter what the outcome, the players held their heads high. The players experienced highs and lows throughout the year. This caused them to improve themselves and play harder. Machelles Dunn, one of the reserve players, said, "It took a lot of hard work, but it was a lot of fun." With attitudes like this from players, there will be no doubt that the seasons to come will be better.
