

Two days before Christmas, one hundred forty-five Colonels and their dates attended and tremendously enjoyed this dance. This was the first formal dance of the year. It was a tremendous success due to hard work and the moderation of Mr. Payne.

Music by the Continentals and many ornaments provided just the right atmosphere. One of the ornaments was a huge bag which contained 3,000 balloons. During the dance this bag was opened and the balloons were dropped.

"Don't put me on"
(with a Kennedy accent)
