Hi

You know, it's a coincidence meeting you here because I have just completed a four year stay at Covington Catholic and found it to be most pleasant. This school gives to so many the atmosphere of friendliness and the relationship of a family. Why, the people here roll out the welcome mat before you even get to the door, and the spirit created by school-wide participation in the various activities is one that is heralded throughout all of Northern Kentucky. I would like to share some of my experiences with you. So come in now and we'll

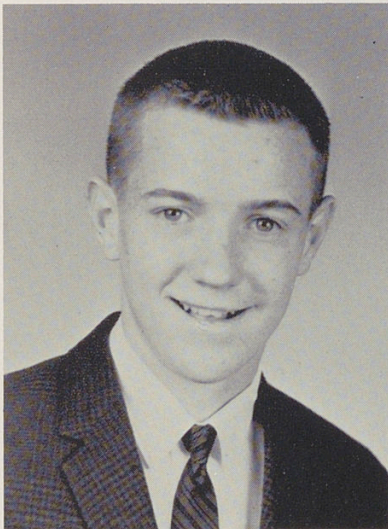

"HAVE A LOOK AROUND SCHOOL."

DEDICATION

JIM

JOE

"AUTO SKIDS, KILLS LUDLOW TWINS," such read the Sunday morning headlines of the Enquirer, January 13. And thus in the Providence of God ended the earthly lives of two outstanding Colonels, James and Joseph Corbett.

Two days before these headlines became a reality, Jim and Joe, along with the rest of the swimming team, had competed in a meet in Louisville. During one of the meets Joe participated in the medley. In the second last lap he got a cramp. He stopped, then started toward the side of the pool. The coach asked him if he would go on. Joe answered, "I'll try." Then completely exhausted he went on to finish third and hence add points for the team. This was the typical reaction of both Corbetts. And not only in swimming! As members of the Sodality, the Student Senate and the swimming team, they were seldom asked to do something, but when that time arose they would always give it a try, no matter how difficult it might be. Even while they lay dying on the highway with a priest at their side, their last words were, "Yes, Father." To describe them with superlatives would take too much space. In a word, they were truly Christ-like Gentlemen.

We, the Seniors of 1963, in paying them special honor, pray that their example will guide us to become and remain, like them, real Christian men. We deem it a real honor to dedicate this book to Jim and Joe.

This yearbook is a record of one year in the life of a very small part of Christ's Mystical Body. This may sound like a bold statement, and yet it should not sound that way for that is exactly what a Catholic school is or should be.

In my position it is wonderful to behold how this life is constantly being built up by the many seemingly insignificant actions of teachers, students, parents, and members of the Covington Catholic family. We have all seen most clearly how Jim and Joe Corbett contributed to this life of Christ in Covington Catholic. Perhaps it was only after their death that we suddenly realized just how much they had given to the building up of Christ's life here.

As you look through this yearbook in future life remember how each little event be it humorous, serious, painful or joyous had a part in this building up of Christ in the school.

However, also from my vantage point can be seen the insidious efforts of evil to tear down the life of Christ in the school. Like all evil it is hidden and in many cases not known to exist even by those who unloosed it by gossip, intrigue, etc. And yet we know that in God's providence even this will work toward the eternal sharing in Christ's life and love.

Pray that as your life closes you may look back and suddenly realize only then how much you contributed to the building up of Christ's life in the Church, your own family, your parish, your community, and your place of work.

Grace at the breakfast

The ceremonies began on the morning of May 31st with the Baccalaureate Solemn High Mass at Blessed Sacrament Church. The Baccalaureate Breakfast then followed at the Covington Catholic High School gymnasium. After a hardy meal and an impressive award ceremony, the activities were over until the evening. The final ceremonies were held at 8:00 P.M. at Mother of God Church. The cap and gown processional was quite a beautiful sight as the seniors filed into the church. Monsignor Bankemper was on hand to present each senior with his diploma. The seniors then sang the Benediction hymns and thus ended their meaningful four year stay at Covington Catholic High School.

Awards

Dave Miller accepts his awards from Bro. Don.

Mick Thiel, president of the senior class and salutatorian, gives his opening address.

Tom Eggemeier, vice-president of the senior class and valedictorian, receives one of his many awards from Bro. Don.

At the annual Baccalaureate breakfast, awards for the highest achievement in academics are given. To many this represents four years of hard work and dedication in the various subjects in which they have excelled. To no one's surprise, Tom Eggemeier gained tremendous recognition for his four years of hard work and dedication.

Tom's awards were:

Two 4 yr. Scholarships:

Villa Madonna College
University of Dayton

Principal's Award

Student Senate Award

National Honor Society Award

Sodality Award

Four Year Honor Student Award

Good Conduct Award

Awards for Excellence in:

RELIGION DEPARTMENT

The main object of the Religion Department here at Covington Catholic is not only religion but also to have the students practice and spread it. With this thought in mind the department under the leadership of Fr. Heitzman went about its work.

The freshman religion teachers, Fr. Evis-ton and Fr. Jasper, spent much time on Faith and the virtues in general. The chief material studied this year was the first and second commandments, and the sacraments of Baptism, Confession, and Communion. This gave the freshman a good background and an idea of what they were to expect in their further studies.

The sophomore classes furthered their knowledge when they studied the Life of Christ. They saw how Christ fulfilled His promises and instituted the sacraments. While teaching of Christ, Fr. Egart explained the Mass and the connection of the Eucharist.

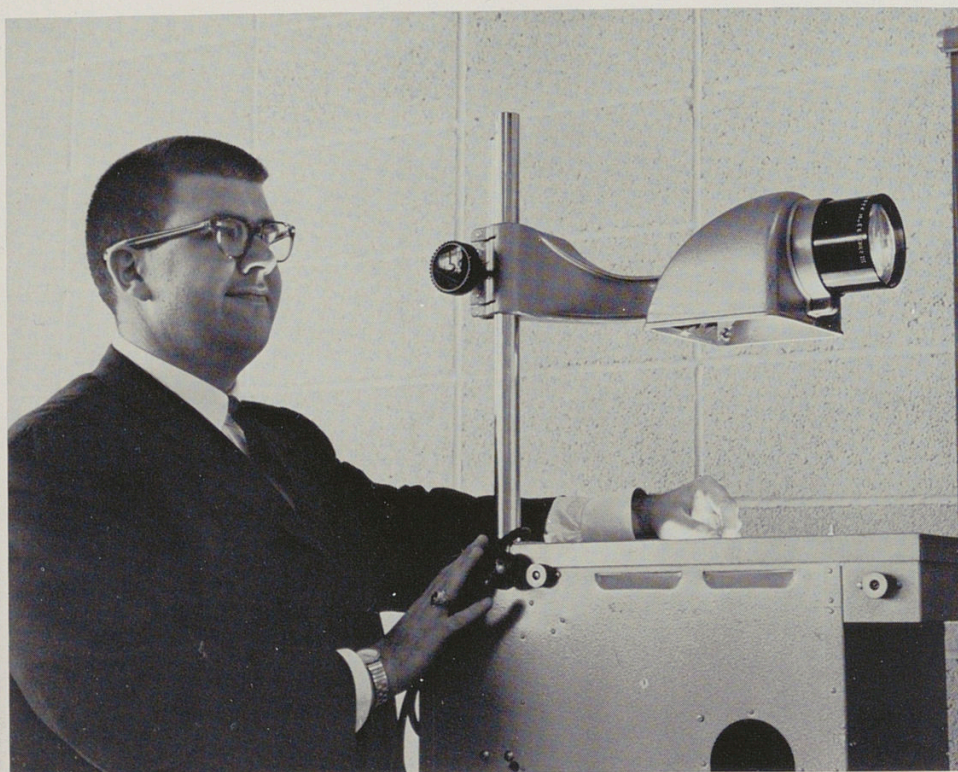

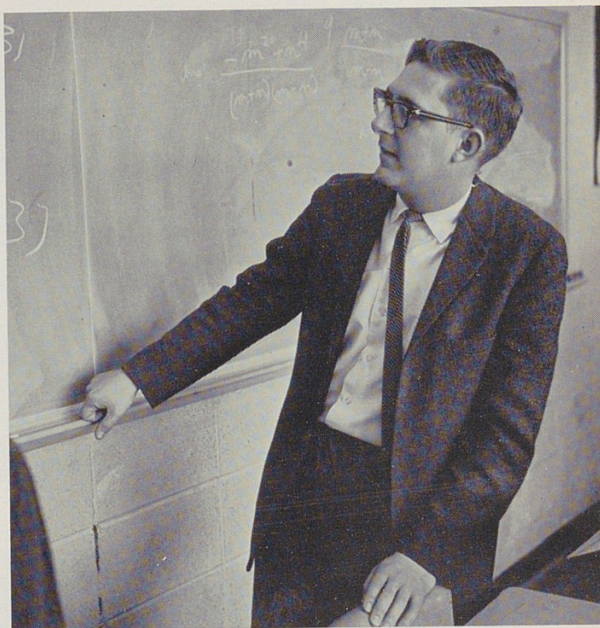

With the idea of being able to explain your religion Fr. McDermott set up two special projects. In the first he assigned to each student a section of the text, they were then required to teach this section to their class and answer any questions that might arise. The second project was to record on tape the life of Christ. Each of the four classes took one of the Gospels.

To prepare the Seniors for the world Fr. Heitzman and Fr. Behringer taught the sacrament of Marriage. This was rather important because most of them will be married and raise a family thus spreading the religion to their children.

MATH DEPARTMENT

Mr. Payne very ably led the math department with excellent assistance from Fr. Walter, a veteran of eleven years of teaching at CCH, and Mr. Paul Geiser, a graduate of Villa Madonna College.

Due to the evident importance of math in the modern world it was taught in all divisions. Mr. Payne taught Senior Math, Algebra II, and Algebra I, stressing the importance of the graph. Fr. Walter taught Plane Geometry to the sophomores and stressed the importance of the Pythagorean Theory. Mr. Geiser taught the freshmen Algebra I by illustrations of his famous Venn Diagrams.

UNIVAC DEPARTMENT

Univac is a department of Covington Catholic from which the Catholic high schools of Covington receive finished reports such as report cards, schedules, permanent records, class lists, and tuition billing. The system contains three basic machines: the sorter, key punch, and the tabulator. The system was introduced by Brother Lynn Leazer, S.M., and has been continued under the auspices of Mr. Schulte with able assistance from Mr. Geiser.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT

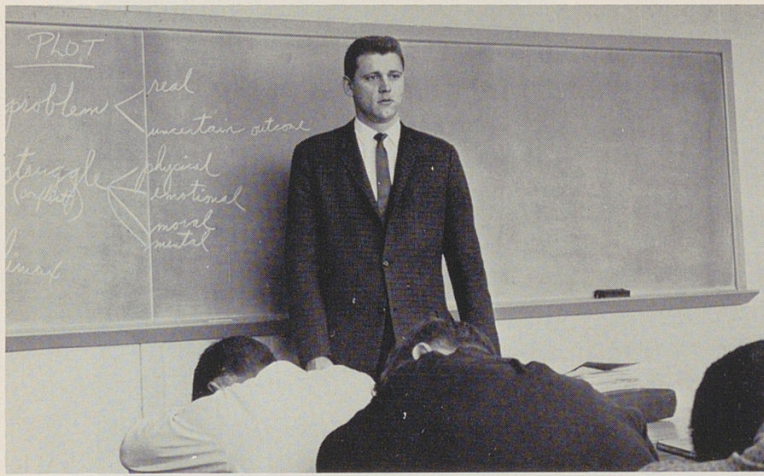

Business? Why sure, one of best departments around. Our department goes to great pains in selecting business courses that will offer the finest results. Such courses as Business Law, Book-keeping, and Business Mathematics are being taught to students so that they will have a workable knowledge of the world around them.

Mr. Schulte, who studied at Xavier, is the chairman of the Department. He is backed up by such capable personnel as Fr. Weber, the treasurer of the school, and Mr. Gerstner a recent graduate of Xavier.

The business department selected Jerry Landwehr to represent Covington Catholic in Youth Week which was sponsored by the City of Covington. Jerry was a city commissioner at the council meeting. He well represented our school by bringing up problems and causing much controversy.

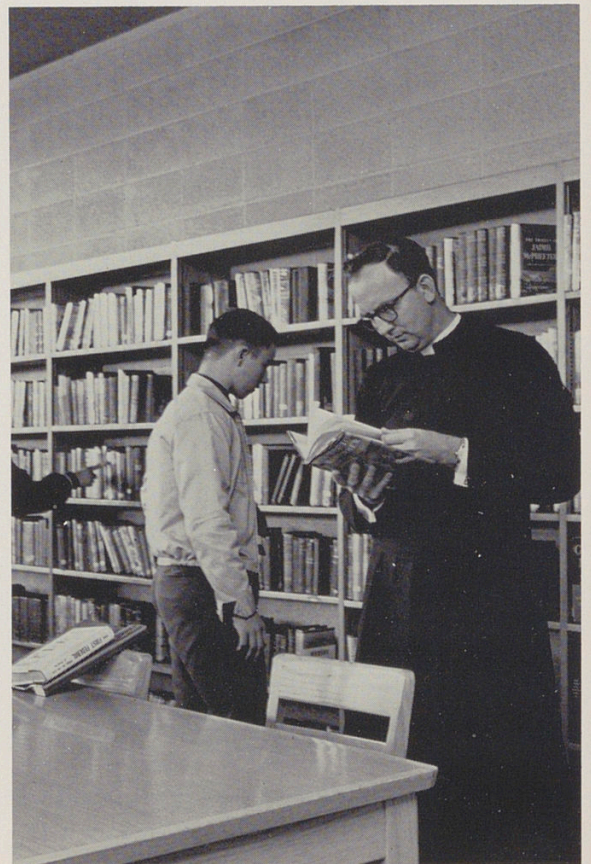

The major goal of the English Department for the past year was to instill in the students an interest in reading and writing. This was accomplished to a large extent by the students making use of paperbacks. The SRA reading program was also used. The students were encouraged to make proper use of the library. The writing of themes, one of the most important elements in any English program was also promoted in the course of the school year.

Visual and Audio aids were also used to help in the understanding and appreciation of some of the Shakespeare plays, the Novels, and various selections of poetry. To help the students acquire a critical eye in viewing movies, the English Department sponsored the movie appreciation project. The movies were viewed, then discussed and analyzed.

For the future year, the new year, the new program will lead to emphasize composition and much reading. Through this program it is hoped to develop in our students at least two of the famous "R's": Reading and Writing.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

A CHRISTMAS TREAT

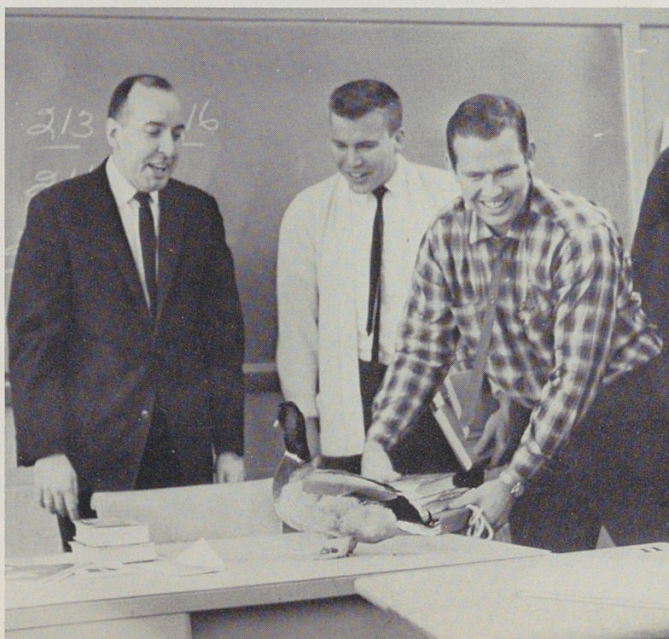

FOR ME??

AH-h-ha-ha

Looks just like Kreutzjans!.

All three brothers received their teaching degrees from the University of Dayton, in their respective fields. Brother John McGowan who taught the seniors Physics will leave this summer to teach at the University of Puerto Rico. Brother Bill, the Biology instructor, used visual aids and biological experiments with much success in his classes. Brother Howard taught the juniors, perhaps, the most dreaded of all high school subjects, chemistry. This summer Brother Howard is taking Quantitative Organic Chemistry at UD. The Science Department continues to make advances in teaching methods and presentation of material.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

Inspired by the age-old adage, "if you are standing still, you are moving backwards," Brother Ed led this year's Social Studies Department into more and varied frontiers.

Brother Ed taught American History, which he likes very much, to the Juniors and World History to the Freshmen. Mr. Brockman taught Freshman World History, while Mr. Hackett taught American History to the Junior A Class.

Features which enlightened response to History were an excellent reading program, use of maps, and explanation of the effects which geography has upon history. Once again this year the history students showed excellent results on all tests, which were standardized.

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

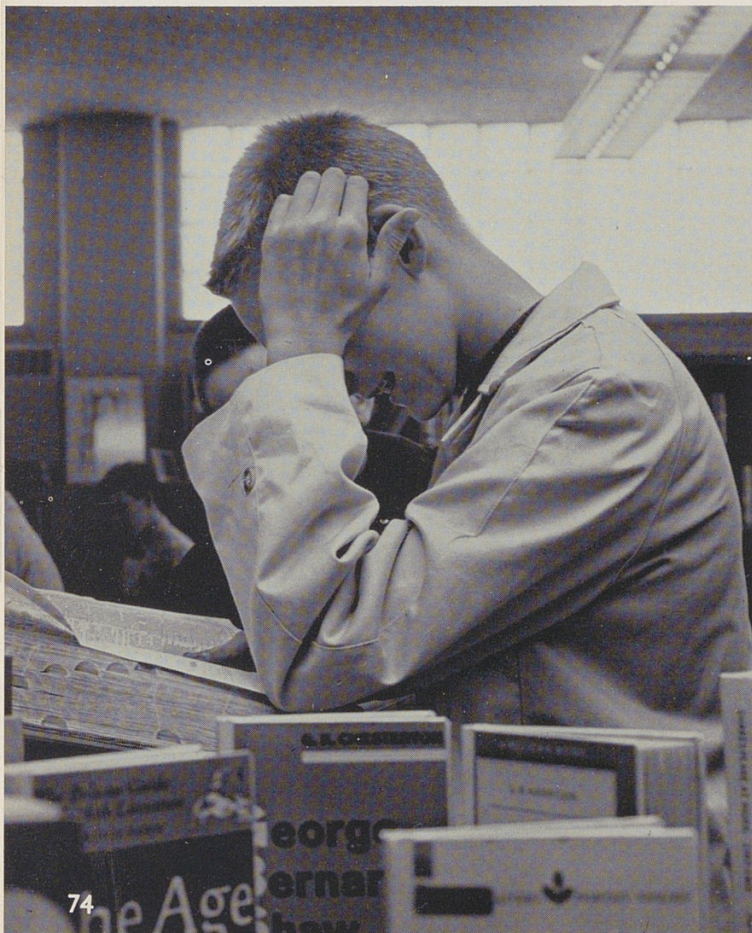

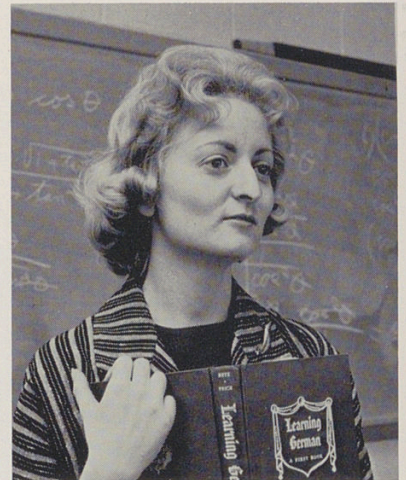

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

Fr. Behringer, a graduate of Catholic University, headed the language department this year. Father taught French to the Juniors and helped establish French as a lasting language in the school. Along with French, two "old standard" languages, Latin and German, were continued.

Freshmen became familiar with Latin through Bro. Dan and wars. The Sophomores furthered their study with Fr. Schaffer. It was said by some that Fr. Schaffer was teaching his classes the use of a siege tower so they could counteract Bro. Dan's wars.

German was taught by Miss Hurn, the only female member of the faculty. She came in on Tuesdays and Thursdays for two hour periods. Everyone appreciated her presence; it seemed to brighten the day.

The Physical Education Department consisted of Mr. Robert Naber and Mr. Roger Tieman, both graduates of Covington Catholic and former basketball stars.

Mr. Naber, being chairman, introduced for the first time a physical fitness test. This program consisted of endurance, stability, and all around co-ordination of the body. It was administered to all freshmen and some upperclassmen.

Mr. Tieman centered his instructions in the classroom. He took the different parts of the body, their uses and relation to other parts. He explained how to improve your health and keep it that way by exercise, good food, and rest.

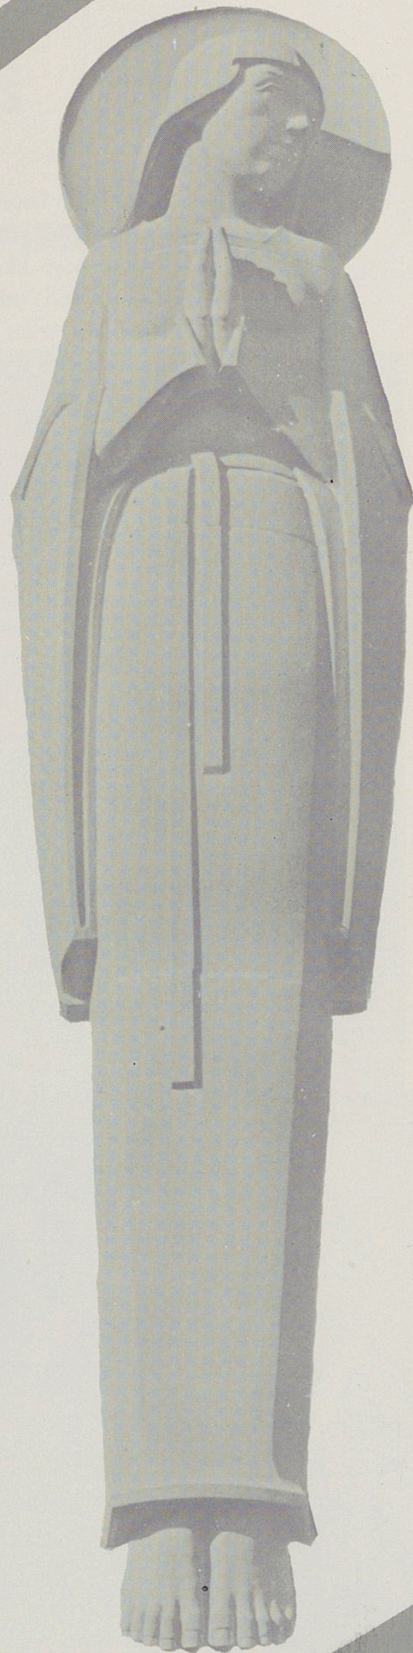

Both Mr. Naber and Mr. Tieman attended the University of Louisville where they are still known for their outstanding play on the basketball court.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT

Underclassmen

The homeroom of Mr. Brockman, 9A, had a wonderful and successful year. It all started when, in the first quarter, the Spirit Banner was awarded to the 9A boys. It was won, of course, by the high spirit shown by some boys like Mike Burke and Tom Egan who were very active in the intramural program. These boys and others like Mike Dacey and Terry Carl were also active in Freshman basketball. They helped the team have a successful season. Again in the third quarter the 9A boys came through and were awarded the Spirit Banner. In this quarter the big factor was the Bishop's Relief Fund in which 9A came in first place. Each boy gave all he could, not because he was forced to but because of his generosity. The Spirit Banner was also won by boys like Dennis Carney and Bob Benson who held usual high averages. The homeroom was also represented on the Freshman baseball team by boys like Terry Carl, and Jerry Collins. In Varsity Baseball Mr. Brockman's boys were also represented by Tom Egan who was a fine catcher. All in all the year for the 9A "astronauts" was successful because of the high spirit shown in most every school activity. One reason was the friendly attitude of every boy to each other. They were willing to do things for others, if not out of friendship, then for the purpose of bettering the homeroom. Because of this high spirit shown throughout the year by each boy of 9A, the homeroom was awarded a free day on Friday, May 24. But not much has been said about Mr. Brockman. He urged us forward but never forced us to do anything. His go-get-'em attitude was a source of inspiration to all the 9A boys. It can surely be said that the "astronauts" have had a very successful year.

Although 9B never won the Spirit Banner, the BARRONS showed a lot of spirit. This point is well proven by our endeavors in intramural baseball. With great effort 9B took first place in the Freshman and Sophomore groups and has a trophy to show for it. The Festival was the greatest display of spirit that this homeroom had throughout the year, and it was successful. 9B also made known its presence in running a close second in the Bishop's Relief Fund collections. It was a member of 9B, Mike Halpin, who won the ping-pong intramural championship. 9B finished the year with a picnic under the guidance of Bro. Dan and the homeroom officers. All those present will agree that we had a wonderful time. Homeroom 9B enjoyed a good year, but we owe a vote of thanks to Brother Dan who gave us a great lift in all our activities.

9C — CHALLENGERS

9C housed 39 CHALLENGERS and a leading Challenger, Mr. Geiser, our homeroom teacher. We are proud to boast that David Mayerchak is in our homeroom. This may not mean much to you, but it does to us because he is one of the most intelligent boys in the freshman division.

Our homeroom gave up free time on Saturdays to come down and sand off desks. We also had a May altar this year which was erected by Tom Kordenbrock, Bill Luckman, and Denny Meyrose, and which received some compliments from the teachers. At the Campbell Lodge Festival we contributed by having the coin toss booth. Not only at the Festival but throughout the whole year wherever help was needed, we were always giving a lending hand. We also had several boys on the various teams in the school. We won the freshman intramural basketball trophy.

Even though we did not win the Spirit Banner, we think we had quite a bit of spirit, and we would like to thank Mr. Geiser for his aid in this regard.

9D — DESTROYERS

Under the leadership of Bro. Ken, the 9D DESTROYERS had a pretty successful and spirited year. At the beginning of the first quarter, the fight for the Spirit Banner was on. It was a close battle between 9D and 9A. When the final results were published, 9A had won the coveted Banner. But we were determined to beat them out in the second quarter, and that is just what we did. We won the Banner for the second quarter. At the end of the third quarter, the results showed 9A the winner again. If the pattern were true, we would win the Banner for the fourth quarter and also the free day. However, a dark horse, 9E, came out on top in the fourth quarter, and so we lost the free day. But we put up a good competitive fight all through the year. We had boys represented in all the athletics and quite a few of the clubs in the school. We also had fun setting up and running the basketball booth at the Campbell Lodge Festival. All in all we had a very nice year.

Throughout the course of the first semester, 9E wasn't too high on the homeroom spirit totem pole, and other homerooms were beginning to wonder if it had any spirit at all. During the third quarter, however, 9E recognized this attitude that its fellow homerooms had and decided to do something about it. There was soon a general desire within the 9E boys to shoot for the highest honor in homeroom competition, the Spirit Banner. At first it seemed an almost impossible task, but directed by the advice of the homeroom teacher, Mr. Roger Tieman, we were willing to try. We came out first in the Bishop's Relief Fund. We showed up quite well in intramural action. We fought on, and when the final results were published, 9E had won the Freshman Division Spirit Banner for the fourth quarter. Even though we started off poorly, we think we had a good year.

Homeroom 10A, better known as the ADVENTURERS under the leadership of Mr. Schulte, can once again proudly proclaim that they have had another successful year as members of the Covington Catholic student body.

As the weeks passed, the homeroom became involved in many extra activities, the first of which was entirely redecorating the homeroom. Of course, we had to sponsor a dance to cover the expenses of the paint and the draperies. After the room was beautified, we then participated in the Campbell Lodge Festival. Working together as a team 10A finished with a respectable third place in homeroom competition.

After this the running of the homeroom was very smooth until the deaths of Jim and Joe Corbett. Jim, being the president of the homeroom, was its source of inspiration. But the ADVENTURERS ventured on to win the second quarter Spirit Banner. A first place in intramural volleyball and baseball, and a second place in ping-pong speak well for the sports in the homeroom. There were also several ADVENTURERS on the school basketball, baseball, and tennis teams; and amongst the activities, the Sodality, Speech and Debate, and the JPC were represented.

In finishing the fourth quarter, the homeroom again placed a first for the Spirit Banner. Much of this success is undoubtedly due to the memory of Jim and Joe Corbett who will never be forgotten by the ADVENTURERS.

This year Homeroom 10B was under the guidance of Father Walter. Our homeroom competed in many of the school activities this year. But the BEAVERS' greatest achievement was coming in first place in the Sophomore division and second place in the school in the Campbell Lodge Festival. In the fourth quarter 10B tied for first place in the Spirit Banner race. The BEAVERS ranked high among participation in athletics. There were two members on the Baseball Team, four members on the Basketball Team, one member on the Swimming Team, and three members on the Track Team. All in all we had a pretty good homeroom this year and hope to have a better one next year.

"WE WILL RISE AGAIN"

The homeroom of Sophomore C was an all out spirited homeroom. With the help of our homeroom teacher, Father Carl Schaffer, we managed to keep up on all school activities. In the field of sports, we participated in all intramurals. In basketball we came in second last, only in front of Sophomore D. In volleyball we were outplayed although we gave a good fight. We also were active in track and ping-pong.

In activities such as the Spirit Banner, Bishop's Relief Fund, and others, we showed pretty much interest. We had a few members who joined the Glee Club and JPC. Although we never won the Spirit Banner, we always came in close to the top.

This year's Soph C was a spirited homeroom, and we wish next year's Soph C a successful and spirited year also.

10-D, under the leadership of Mr. Gerstner, who became our homeroom teacher in October when Mr. Kunkemoeller left, is proud of the part they played in serving the school this year. Although we started out slow, we rallied at the second semester to finish high in the Spirit Banner for the third and fourth quarters. A money-making booth in the Campbell Lodge Festival, good representation in intramurals, and a large amount of food and clothing for the missions were among our achievements. By having boys on the honor roll every time we were not ashamed of our scholastic standing among the other sophomore homerooms. 10-D also placed two boys on the basketball team, one on the track team, and one on the golf team.

10E — ELDORADOES

This year we called ourselves the ELDORADOES and were led by Bro. Bill, our homeroom supervisor. We think we had a very successful and spirited year. Thrice-time winner of the Spirit Banner, and also winner of the free day have helped to back up this opinion.

At the end of the first quarter, it was no surprise to anyone that the ELDORADOES captured the Spirit Banner. It was a close race in the second quarter, but 10A beat us out. However, we popped back in the third quarter and replaced the Banner in our homeroom where it had been hanging. The fourth quarter saw a three way tie for first, but since we were one of the three, we were awarded the free day. We fought hard and felt we earned our reward.

In the sports, intramurals, and activities of the school, our homeroom was well represented, and we were very proud to be able to do something for the school in this way.

Our Sophomore year was successful, and we think our Junior year will be just as successful.

This year under the leadership of Mr. Charles Butler, 11A did what it usually does the first quarter—won the Spirit Banner. We accomplished this through the hard work and participation of all the members of the homeroom. A strong finish in the Bishop's Relief Fund, few tardies and absences, plus an excellent representation on the Honor Roll aided us tremendously. Although we did not fare as well in subsequent trials, 11A was definitely in the running for the day off at the end of the year. The Campbell Lodge Festival was another of our more notable accomplishments. Our homeroom boasts members on the Speech and Debate Team, writers on the Contact, Cheerleaders, baseball players, basketball players and golfers. As you can see from the variety of these activities our homeroom was a "jack of all trades." Not too great in any one thing but good in everything. The Juniors of 11A are hopefully awaiting the time when they can be members of Senior A.

There are so many things that can be said about this homeroom that it would be impossible to fit them into this short article. Although these few lines are all that has been given to the 11B-ATTITUDES we shall try to do ourselves justice in this space. This homeroom, after winning the spirit banner the first two years, skipped into an all around average of second place in this year's race right behind Fr. McDermott. This homeroom, under the leadership of Brother Ed Carey, truly influenced the spirit of the school in many aspects. Namely: Intramural basketball where they finished first, and in honors, where they always placed high. Besides all the other accomplishments the 11B-attitudes, also contains seven members of the highly acclaimed J.P.C. The 11-B homeroom, we are sure, will make a good attempt at destroying the empire established by 12-C in the senior year. Good luck, B-attitudes.

11C — OWBOYS

11-C led nobly by Bro. Howard, our homeroom proctor, and Jack Robke, our president, was a standout in many activities at school.

Our bowling team led by Jim Parton and Gary Sandel won the school championship without much difficulty. The basketball and volleyball teams of 11-C each placed second in their divisions.

Our homeroom, nevertheless, had many boys win varsity letters in the varsity sports of Covington Catholic. We also had a considerable amount of scholars on the honor roll list at the end of each quarter.

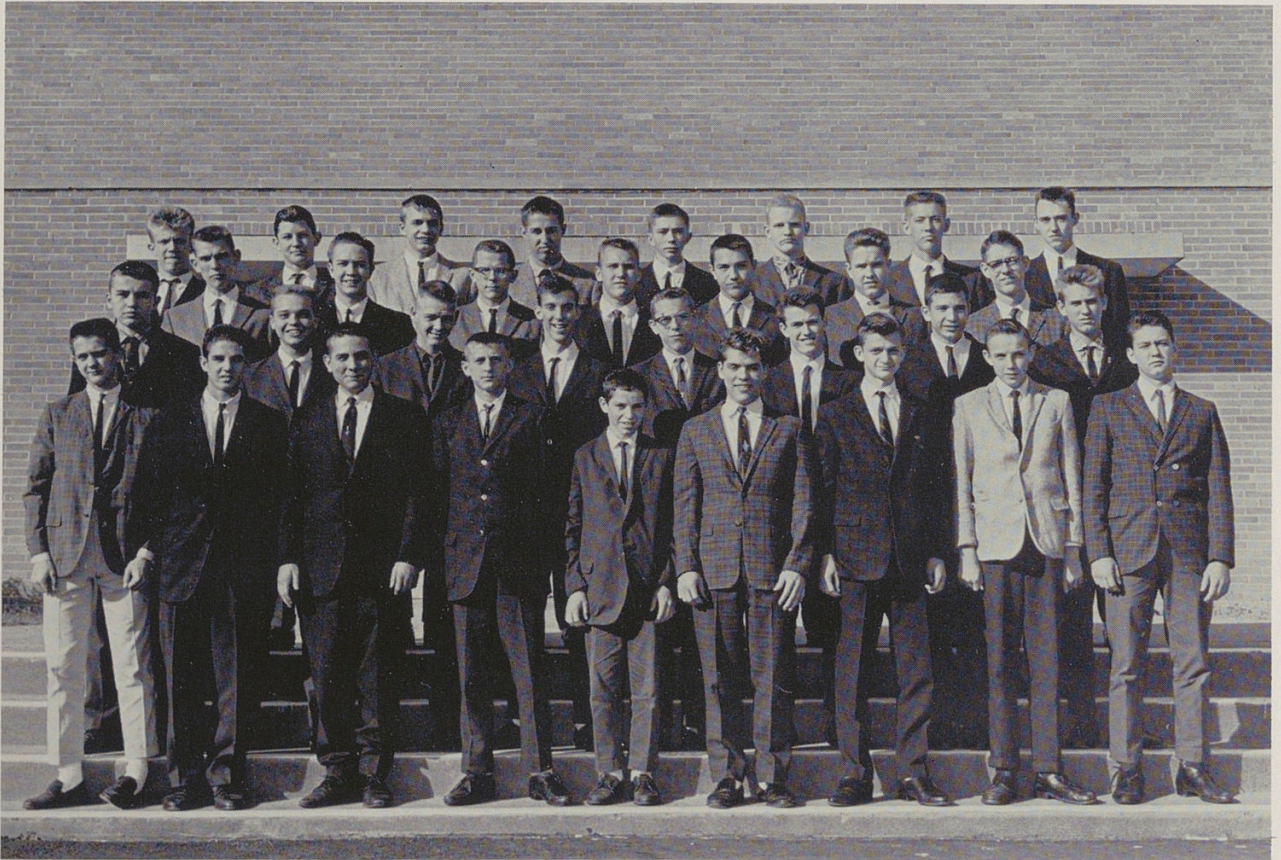

With these great assets 11-C contributed much to make Covington Catholic a better and more resourceful school.

11D — EASPERUS

Under the leadership of our homeroom proctor, Fr. John McDermott, Junior 'D' was the best homeroom in the division. We won the Spirit Banner in three quarters and came in second in the other quarter. Thus our homeroom was awarded the free day for having the most spirit. Some of our notable achievements during the year were: winner of volleyball and basketball intramurals, best booth at the Campbell Lodge Festival in the whole school, and first in both the Bishop's Relief Fund and the Seminary Collection.

Most of the boys of 11-D participated in some extracurricular activity. We also had about ten boys consistently on the honor roll. All the members of our homeroom can be proud of their achievements and look back on a successful year.

PHOTOGRAPHY BY HADORN

THE CAMPBELL LODGE

LODGE

The building that you see in the picture on the left is the home for 26 boys. It also provides a story of organization and will-power on the part of one man—Father Nieman. About six years ago Father was Juvenile Chaplain in the City of Covington. During this time he saw many boys pass through the doors of the court house. Father Nieman was determined to do something about it. Father spoke to Bishop Mulloy about the situation and about his idea of starting a "Boys Town" right in the diocese of Covington . . .

FATHER NIEMAN

Father Nieman accepts check from generous donor.

. . . As in all big projects the big problem is money. The financial status of the Lodge when Father Nieman was given the O.K., was exactly $35 and one mink stole. Today the Lodge is almost completely supported by private donations. The cost of running the Lodge for one year is $85,000. So you can see the job of financing the Lodge is an enormous one.

The Lodge is 35 acres large and was formerly Ogden Farm. It is located on Cold Spring on Skyline Drive. Recently a new dormitory was added. The boys in the bottom picture are Cuban Refugees . . .

Eggemeier looks on with a look of distrust.

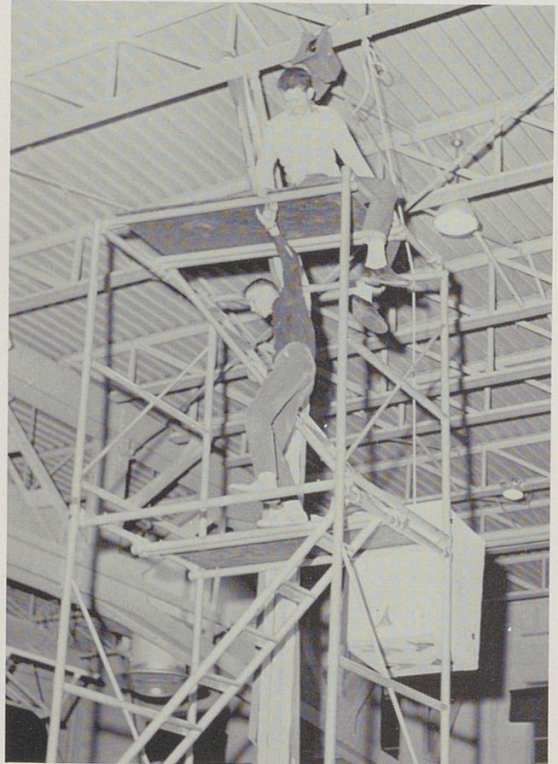

Not satisfied, Eggemeier moves in to lend his professional help.

LODGE FESTIVAL

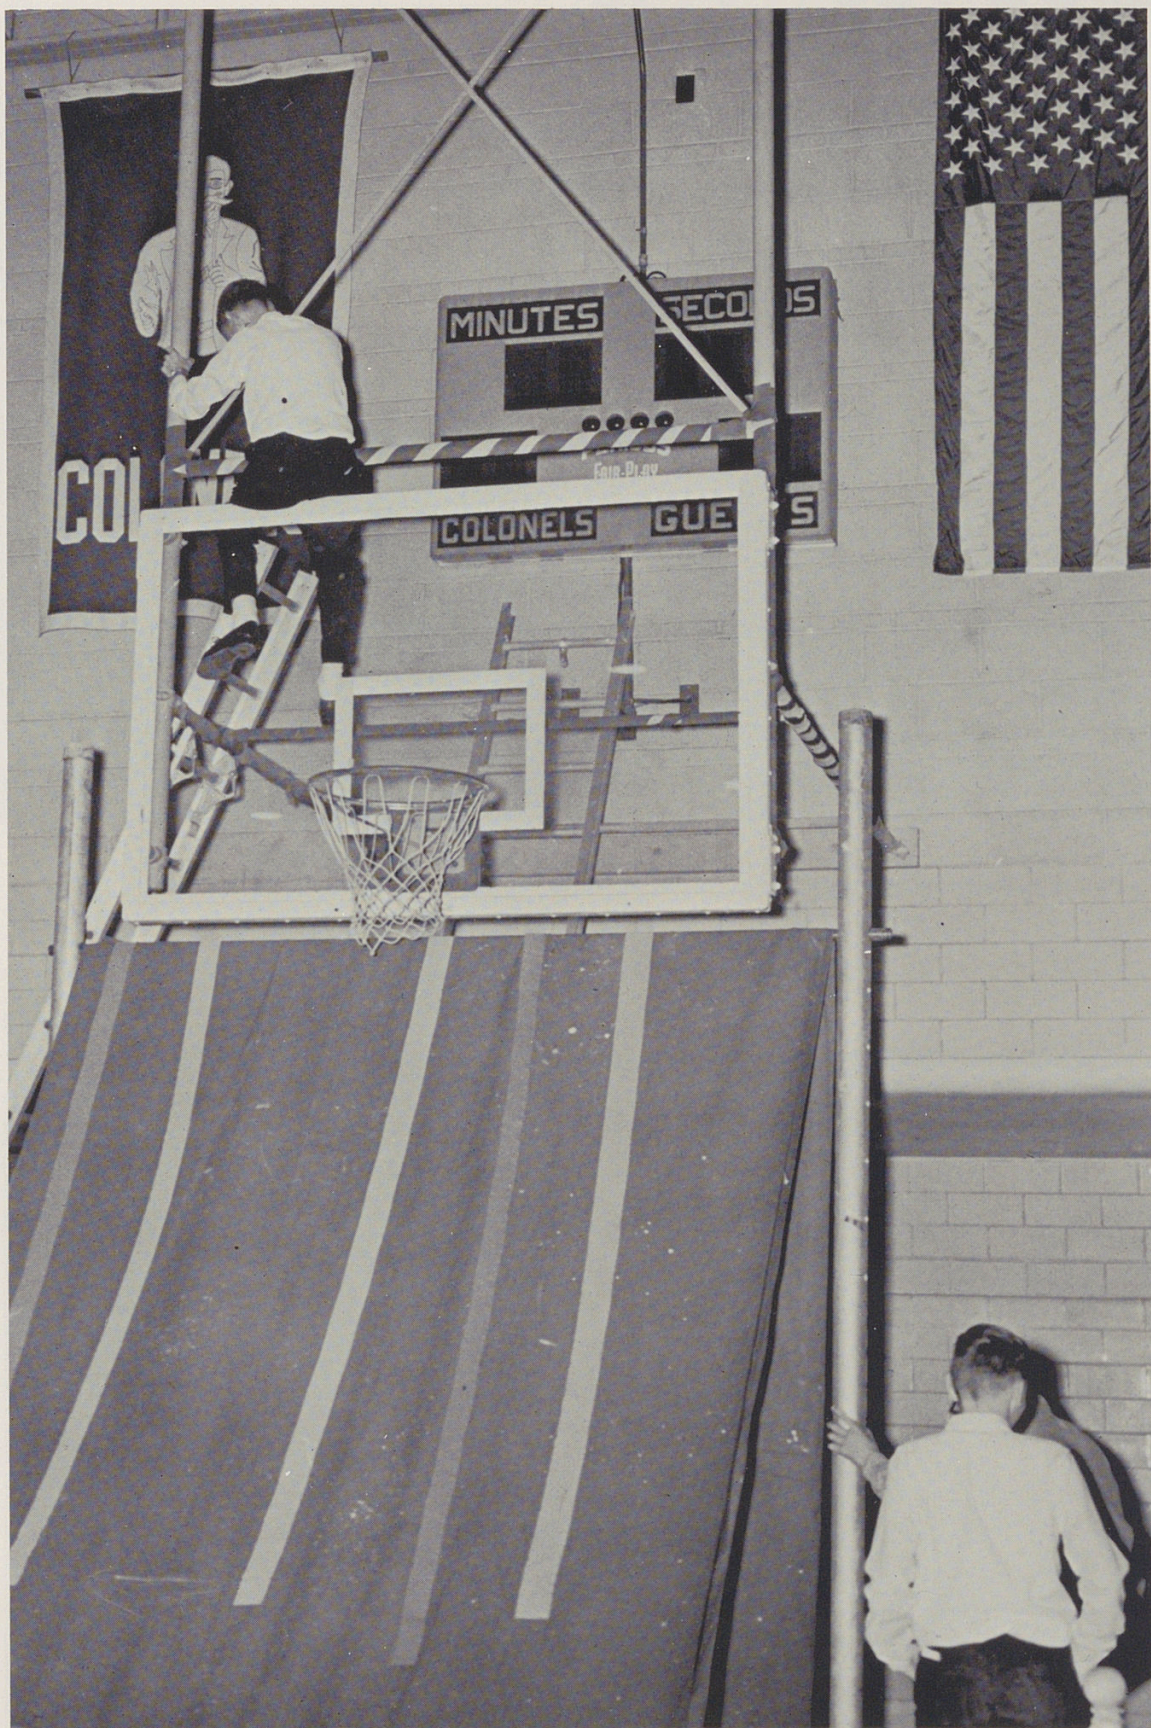

The results of Eggemeier's professional help. The sign stood for more than a week. Definitely a feat that no one expected.

. . . Covington Catholic in its own small way wishes to help defray the cost of the Lodge. It sponsored every year for the last five years the Campbell Lodge Festival, one of the biggest events of the year . . .

"Go down and get Eggemeier, he'll know what to do in this situation."

Don't fall off, Joe, the insurance premiums will go up again.

"Four score and seven years ago . . ."

"Is this how you say cheese, cameraman?"

. . . All of the students conclude that half the fun of having the Festival is in setting it up. Every year tons and tons of crepe paper and wood are used to decorate booths. Some homerooms go to extravagances in decorating their booths to attract customers while others rely on the type of game they play to attract customers . . .

"They are doing it all wrong, they should have consulted me."

"Well, Tim, I see that you still have your pants."

. . . This year's booths had such old stand-bys as Kelly Pool and Chuk-a-Luk. To liven up the afternoon festivities two girls were introduced to the student body . . .

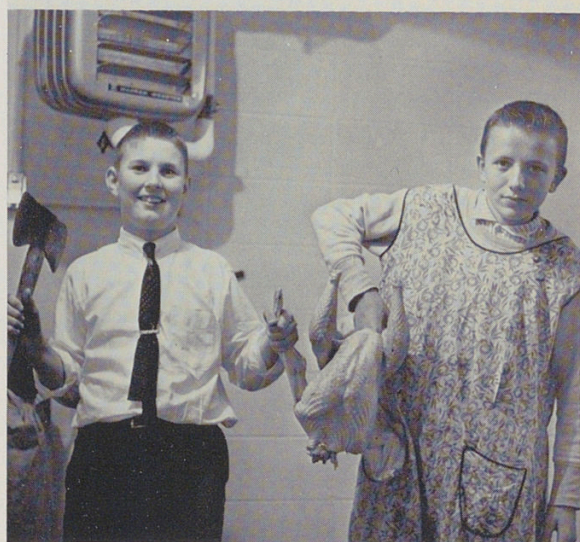

Señoritas Grayson and Corbett

"I wonder how those little kids swim in a little thing like this."

The bird before

The bird after

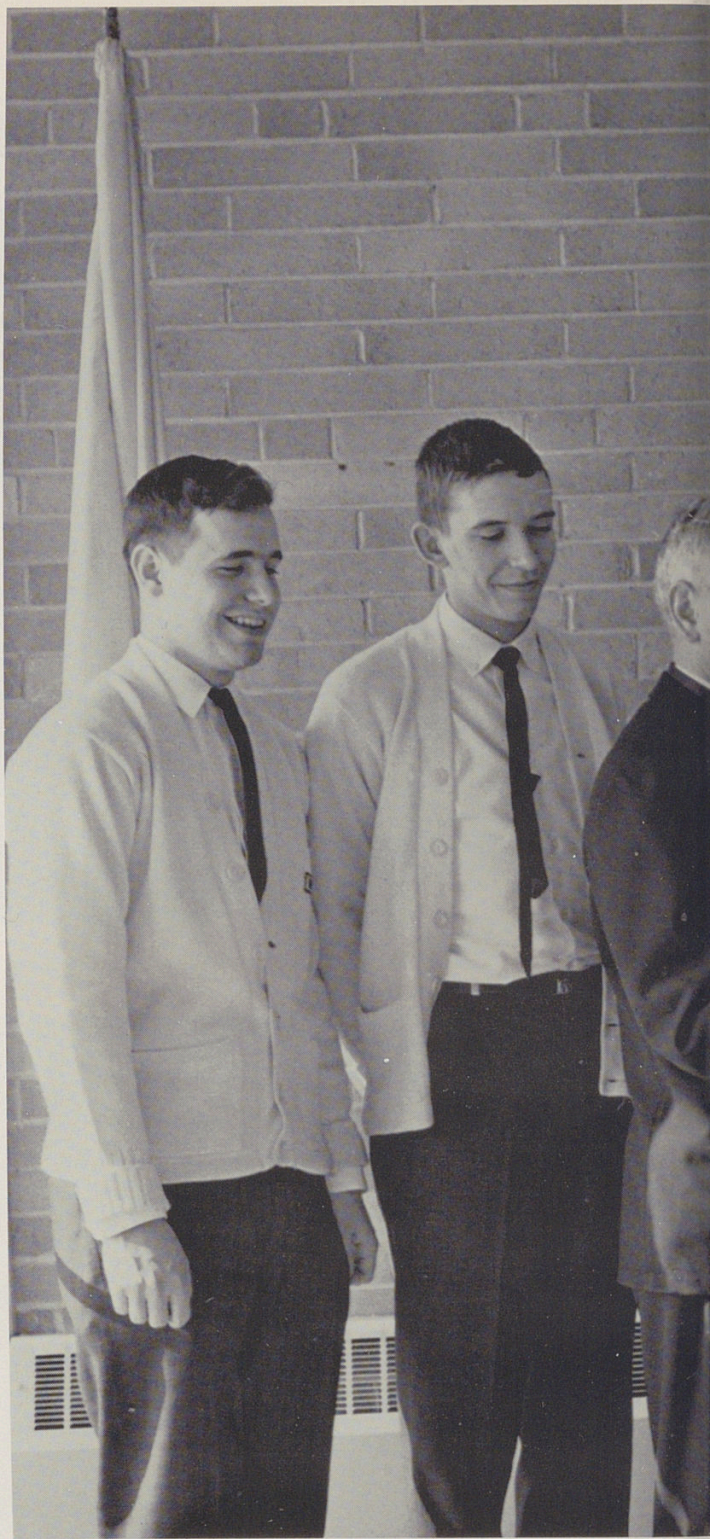

Mr. and Mrs. Hargis won the turkey sponsored by Brother Dan's booth. Mrs. Hargis did not want the bird alive. And so . . .

Just one more throw

. . . As the night wore on the money kept pouring in. Financially, this festival is the best ever held at Covington Catholic. We sincerely hope that this money will in some small way help Father Nieman—a man who knows the problems of young men and what's more he is doing something about them.

We hope that you enjoyed this short story of Campbell Lodge and the part that it plays here at school.

No Time for Sergeants is the most difficult play ever attempted by the C.C.H. Seniors. This comedy included more actors, props, scenes, stagehands, and lighting effects than ever before. As you well probably know a project like this takes a long time and a lot of work to set up. Meetings were held before Christmas with the Play Committee. By the latter part of January, the casting had already started. In early March the sets began to be built. Practice was held about three times a week which was eventually increased to every day of the week.

PROM

SITTING: Dan Hall and Janice Salmons.

REX ET REGINA

The Prom represents the epitome of the social events of the school year, held by the school itself. The theme of this year's Prom, which was chosen by the juniors, was Twilight Time. Although this year's Prom was not as well attended as in the last few years, it was labeled a success by the Moderators Mr. Butler and Mr. Payne. This success can be attributed to the Prom Committee, composed of juniors, who did a fine job of decorating and setting up the ballroom of the Sheraton Gibson. Although the juniors had a limited time to decorate, everyone commented on how well the ballroom looked. The music was furnished by the Tommy Scofield Orchestra. At 11:30 the highlight of the Prom was reached when Dan and Jan were crowned.

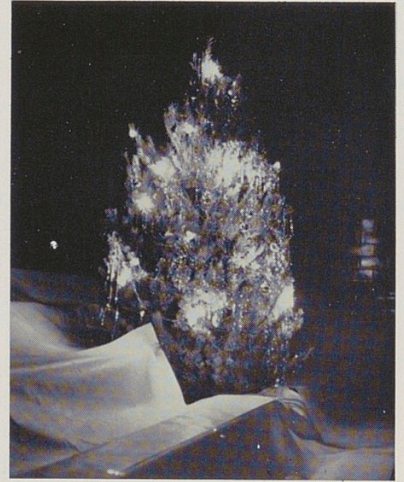

CHRISTMAS BALL

"I had B.O. so bad, I couldn't wait."

Two days before Christmas, one hundred forty-five Colonels and their dates attended and tremendously enjoyed this dance. This was the first formal dance of the year. It was a tremendous success due to hard work and the moderation of Mr. Payne.

Music by the Continentals and many ornaments provided just the right atmosphere. One of the ornaments was a huge bag which contained 3,000 balloons. During the dance this bag was opened and the balloons were dropped.

"Don't put me on"
(with a Kennedy accent)

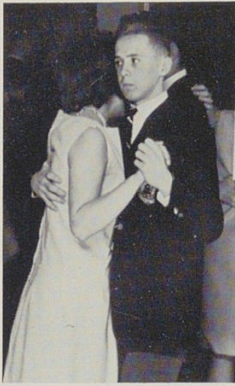

"You sure that Paula won't break the camera?"

"What would Dad tell me to do in this situation?"

MARDI GRAS

The Mardi Gras which was the last date dance of the year was sponsored by the Student Senate. The Party Room of the Towne and Country was used as the locality. Through good planning and hard work, a wonderful evening was in store for all attending.

CONEY DAY

"I want my Maypol!"

"Death to all Algebra students."

The reason the students and teachers are enjoying themselves in the pictures on this page is because it is the fun day of the year, CONEY DAY!!!! All the Catholic schools of Covington are encouraged by Monsignor Elsaesser to spend this day in enjoyable recreation. Taking his very good advice, students from all the Catholic schools jam Coney on this day and thoroughly enjoy themselves. Don't think Coney was sad after we left, because it took our wallets, fake draft cards and all.

"I thought I put on my black and purple socks."

"Hey, I was before him. Think I should hit him in the head?"

"I thought that you said it was 3.2."

"The Indianapolis 500 doesn't have a doggone thing on this."

PEP RALLY

"I wonder how much a bag of oats costs."

In the past at Covington Catholic it has been tradition to have pep rallies before the big games. Of course, no game is bigger than the Newport Catholic game. This year a new thing was tried and the rally was held outside for the most part. A straw horse representing the Thoroughbreds of Newport Catholic was constructed. Wood was gathered from all over the countryside for the big bonfire. Needless to say the rally was a huge success, even though a snow-storm hit right in the middle of it. Unfortunately we lost the game the next day—but who cares we had a good time, didn't we?

FRESHMAN INITIATION

In order to get the Freshmen into the "swing of things," the Student Senate sponsors Freshman Initiation Day. By this day we officially accept the Freshmen as part of the school. This give the little rats a sense of security.

"This grass taste like vodka."

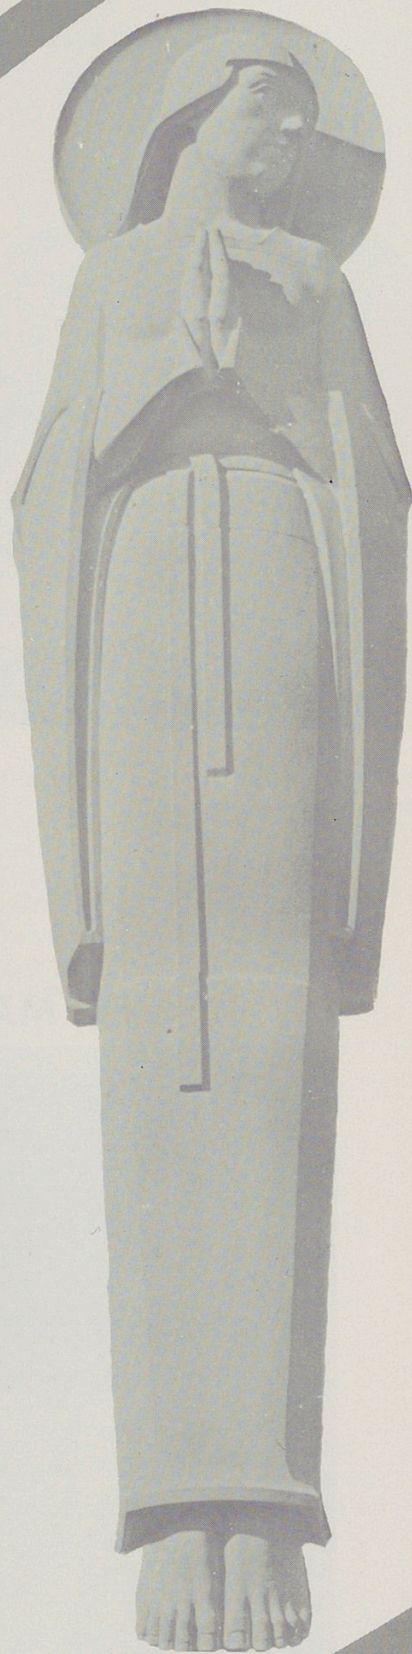

"Ain't I beautiful in my beany?"

"I think they are going to vomit on my new blue suede shoes."

TEAM HAS GOOD YEAR

Defending State Champions, our Colonel mermen, went to the 1963 State Meet with one thing in mind—repeat as Champs! But Louisville Westport High had their own plans and took our crown from us. We had to be satisfied with the Runners-up trophy.

Father McDermott, the head coach of the team since its first season four years ago, has done courageous work in promoting this sport in the school. In late October sixty-eight students tried out for the team but only twenty-five made it. The team started out the year with decisive victories, but ended the season with a 6 and 6 record. The trip to Louisville resulted in a couple of costly losses. But stern determination was in the eyes of the Colonel Swimmers at the State Meet. Backed by a great contingent of rooters, mostly seniors, they fought as hard as they could. By the time of the final event of the day, the 200 freestyle relay, it was anybody's meet. If Highlands won this last event, they would take the crown. The same could be said for the Colonels. If neither of these teams won, then Westport would be the champs. As it happened, by one second we finished second in this event, and by two points we were runners-up to Westport, the new champs.

AWARDS

Lee Nageleisen accepts Most Improved Player Award.

The annual Sports Banquet was held on Thursday, March 21, 1963. With all the parents and faculty looking on, the boys came forward to accept their hard earned awards. The boys to receive the three major awards were chosen by a majority vote of the coaches and team. The "Rabble Rousers," more commonly called "Cheerleaders," also shared in this event and received certificates of exceptional spirit from their moderator, Bro. Ed.

Action in the Dixie game.

Mr. Harry Hannum, President of the Ohio Valley Basketball Officials Association, was the guest speaker at the banquet. Beginning his speech with many humorous anecdotes, he proceeded on a more serious plane. The gist of his talk centered around the maturity and responsibility which is brought out through sportsmanlike competition. Both Coach Naber and Coach Tieman seemed proud of their 1962-'63 teams as they left the banquet.

Ken Williams receives trophy for Most Points Scored.

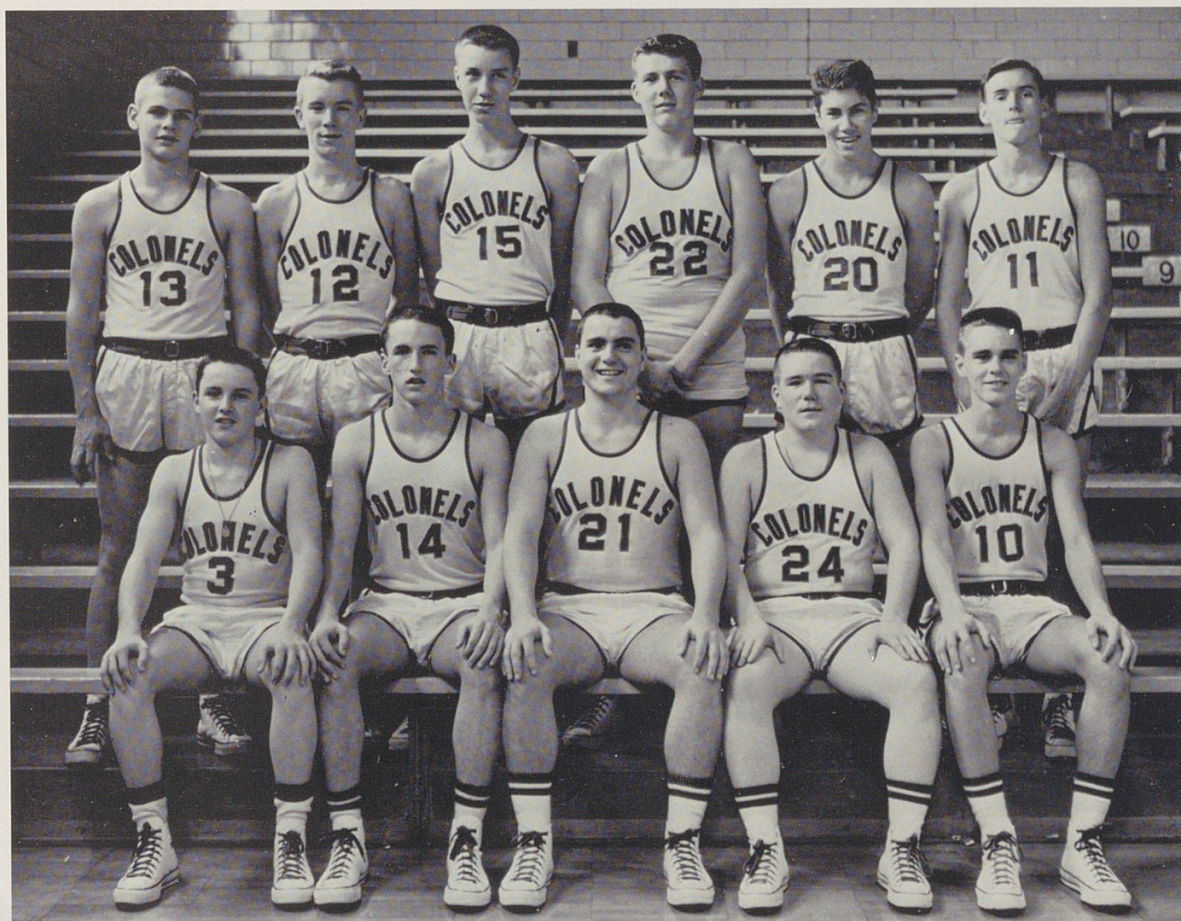

Most Valuable Player Award goes to Jim Thelen.

The Colonel Yearlings showed great promise for future success by wrapping up the season with the Runners-Up Trophy. From the very beginning there was an inkling of final victory through an all out team effort and determined coaching on the part of Mr. Tieman. Sparked by the exceptional playing of Mick Burke, Mike Dacey, and Tom Egan the team was able to reach this peak of victory. But we cannot praise merely three men since victory is the result of united participation. This participation was exemplified in victories over such teams as: Newport Catholic, Newport Public, Roger Bacon, and Dixie Heights.

Mick Burke reaches high.

Mike Burke receives trophy from Coach Tieman.

LEE NAGELEISEN

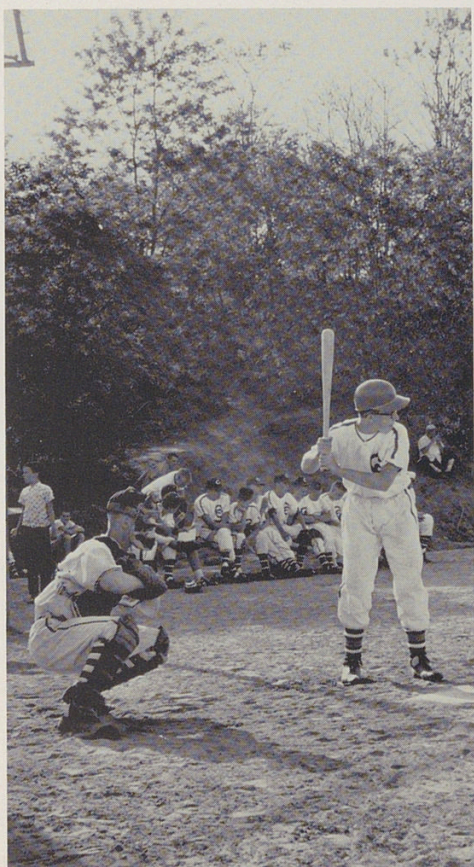

Action in the Newport Catholic game

The best member on this year's Varsity Baseball Team is an easy choice to make. Lee is a veteran of four years. Over these years he has sparked the team at bat, on the field, and off the field. This past year Lee chipped in with a .377 batting average.

For the first time, Freshman Baseball was introduced into the Athletic Curriculum of the school. Under the leadership of Mr. Brockman, although the team did not fare so well, they gained immeasurable experience in their quest to make the varsity team next year. A stand-out member of this year's team was Tom Egan, who also played Varsity ball. Other members who are going to help CCH in future years are Mike Burke and Mike Dacey.

TRACK

"Step on a line, you break your mother's spine. Step on a crack, you break your mother's back."

"Now where did it go. I know I had it when I started the approach!"

We would like to introduce to you the sport which many of the students at Covington Catholic believe will rank high among the top sports here at the school. Added to a list which already includes swimming, basketball, and baseball, this will provide Covington Catholic with a well-rounded Athletic Program.

Standout members on this year's team were Ron Michael, Mike Reilly, and Mike Fox. These boys together collected a total of 18 firsts to help the team in their quest for victory. Mike Fox finished first in the broad jump every meet but failed to continue his winning streak in the Regional Track Meet.

TENNIS

Under the coaching of Mr. Paul Geiser and Mr. Ronald Schulte, the tennis team did very well for themselves. Quite a few games were rained out or cancelled, but the team managed to get to the regional semi-finals. Larry Stevens, the first singles ace, seemed to ignite the team with plenty of spark, while much promise was shown in the lone freshman "racketeer," Tom Kordenbrock.

GLENN BEIMESCH the only senior who played golf this year did quite well for himself and the school. Through his splendid play he was able to qualify in the regional tournament thus giving him the right to play in the state tournament at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

The golf team once more made a great appearance for the school. With Fr. Heitzman's coaching the team was able to have two boys, Glenn Beimesch and Jim Vogt, qualify in the regional tournament. The team also pulled their way through many tough matches during their regular season.

LIBRARY

The library, since the coming of Mr. Hackett, has become the most efficient organization in the school. He has increased the size of all library departments. In the past few years Mr. Hackett has recruited the help of many able-bodied students.

The library is also the center of the lost-and-found. Mr. Hackett's assistants have an uncanny ability to open "locked" lockers. The funds accumulated from cleaning out the lockers together with the fines on overdue books help to finance the library's endeavors.

The school sincerely appreciates the service that the library offers.

Mr. Hackett, dictator and singing star of the library.

Mr. Payne "supervises" as members of the Student Senate arrange the Christmas crib scene.

STUDENT SENATE

The Student Senate, under the capable direction of Mr. John Payne, is a student organization originated to help the student in obtaining various privileges benefiting him and his school.

Here at C.C.H. the Student Senate has been active in various fields and has given the student a number of privileges which he would not have had otherwise.

Dances, intramurals, recreation, socials, assemblies, road trips, and the Campbell Lodge Festival are backed to develop the students spiritually, physically, and intellectually.

The Student Senate is improving each year and there is confidence that it will continue to improve through the years.

Student Senate officers J. Landwehr, K. Williams, T. Eggemeier, and M. Thiel greet Bro. Don.

Tom Schaeper, Ron Major, Mike Butler, and Dan Pieper (chairman) make up the Spiritual Committee.

The Cultural Committee, headed by Jim Vogt, was one of the most active groups of the Student Senate.

The Committee was successful in having the Notre Dame Academy Choral Club, the Bellarmine Glee Club, and the Bellarmine Band perform at C.C.H. for the "cultural advancement" of the Colonels.

The Cultural Committee of the Student Senate: Jack Robke, Jim Vogt (chairman), Bill Luckman, Mike Whelan, Bill Uhl

The Student Senate's Social Committee: Dick Saalfeld, Bill Hoppenjans, Dan Hall (chairman), Jim Kruer, Mike Egan

In spite of a season in which there were few tournaments, the Speech and Debate Club has continued to grow and expand under this year's moderator, Bro. Dan Donovan.

Among the highlights of this year were the Princeton Invitational which was lost and the New Richmond Annual Debating Tournament in which the "A" team pulled out a victory, beating Oakwood, the winner of the Princeton match. The New Richmond Trophy was the first one brought home by C.C.H.'s "A" debating team, composed of L. Schoettker, M. Moser, M. Butler, and D. Miller.

In the regionals this year, the team came in second. P. Foley won a superior rating in the regional Oratorical Declamation contest and went to Frankfort to compete in the state contest.

The Club has the distinction of being the first school in Northern Kentucky to be affiliated with the National Forensic League.

Under the system of advancement, six of our members have the first degree of Merit, four the second degree of Honor, and three the third degree of Excellence.

The Club is going to lose one of its best "A" debaters when Dave Miller graduates in '63 but it still hopes to be even better in the upcoming year.

Phil Foley, winner of the regional Oratorical Declamation contest and Covington Catholic's representative at the state meet in Frankfort.
