From The Principal

Dear Colonels,

The school year of 1966-1967 will long be remembered at Covington Catholic. The death of Paul Tepe, President of the Student Senate, just as the school year began was somehow a call to greatness we could not resist.

This was the year of firsts at CCH: the first time three seniors were named Merit Scholars, the first time Covington Catholic had football, the first time our basketball team won the regional and went on to the State finals.

CCH is only on the way to greatness. All phases of its operation must be strengthened so that greatness can continue and grow. The senior play, the "West Side Story," was another championship calling for future classes to equal if possible.

Bro. Don McKee

Most of all Covington Catholic is blessed with a strengthening religion program. More students are learning apostolic work. More Colonels than ever are giving their lives to God. This is Catholic education at its finest.

God love you,

Bro. Donald McKee, S.M.
