

Intra-Murals

Not all boys have the God-given talents to play excellent basketball or become a member of a team, but the intramural program gives every boy a chance to realize his potential and make the most of what he has been given.

The intramurals are one of the activities with the largest participation throughout the school year. These organized sports develop the spirit of competition and fair play in the boys participating, as the homerooms battle each other to attain victory and win the prize of the coveted Spirit Banner.

STRIKE another one up for the Schoenling All-Stars.

Watch this shot. Over the rafters and in the net.

