

The State

With the best wishes of all Northern Kentucky behind them, C. C. H.'s varsity came into the state tournament blazing, and their combination of skill and teamwork soon won them the support and admiration of the fans in Louisville.

After defeating Paducah Tilghman and Monticello with plenty of room to spare, the Colonel's met their long standing rivals, the Louisville Central "Yellowjackets" and overtook them with a 67-55 score that they would have never thought possible.

However, at the final, all important game with Earlington, the Colonel's just couldn't find the target and lost the game, and the title, by one point in the final second with the final score of C. C. H. 53 and Earlington 54.

I use ban and people still try to avoid me.
