

larry gilliam was a well liked guy at C.C.H. He was fairly active through his stay, playing intramurals and participating in sodality. Surely success will not elude larry's grasp.

An unfortunate accident cut short john glenn's athletic career at C.C.H. but fortunately for us john channeled his talents in other areas. He has been very active in school functions and was co-chairman of the freshman orientation program in his senior year. john's academic achievement were rewarded by his reception of the cincinnati telephone co. award for the highest grades in the business courses.

terry green has been an outstanding student in his own way while attending C.C.H. Although he was rather quiet terry was always interested in what other people had to say and was willing to help out in any way he could. He is planning to attend northern community college.

dave gribben's interests are widespread; and he finds himself in place at everything, from fishing alone to crowded parties. In his four years, he has made a strong impression on everyone he has come in contact with as C.C.H.

gary gurren was one of C.C.H. friendliest men. He always had something amusing to say and his magnetic personality always drew people near to him. Gary's plan for the future include college and marriage.

joe gronefeld is known and respected by many. He will be remembered as a pretty cool guy. A diligent student he showed great ability in the music field. joe will attempt engineering at university of kentucky.
