

mark kreyling's all-american personality superior intelligence, and athletic abilities made him one of the most outstanding figures in the class of '68. He next plans to bring fame to u.k. by going there in the fall.

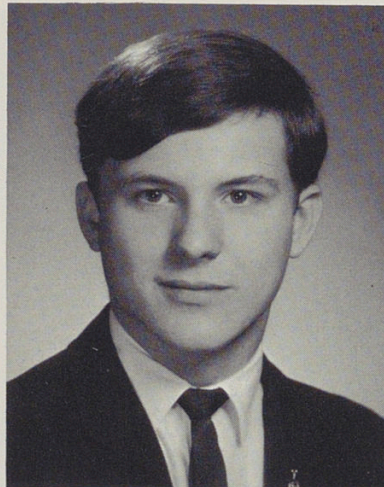

louie krumpelman in his four years at covington catholic has been very studious in school and out. During the first three years at CCH louie excelled in baseball and is planning a baseball career after high school.

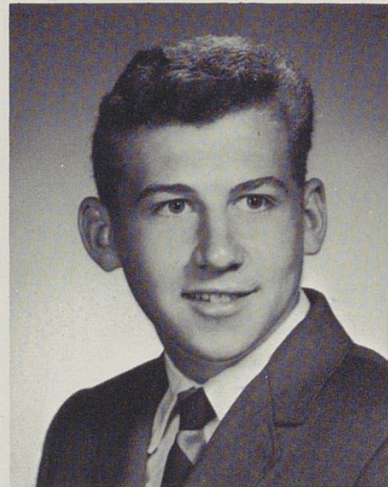

john kurtz transferred to covington catholic in his junior year. Although with us only two years he made a lasting impression on all who came into contact with him. John was an outstanding cross country runner.

A member of the student senate in his freshman year, bob lange was nicknamed "senator." In his later years at CCH turned to sports by joining the track and cross country teams. He intends to go to u.k.

rick lemker was an involved member of our school from the beginning till the end as a member of speech and debate, various student senate committees and as editor of the Contact. He was referred to by many nicknames but Steve Strobe was his favorite.

jim lenhoff's biggest asset has been his understanding of life; he knows when to be serious and when fooling around is an order. He has always been a likeable "guy" and has earned the friendship of everyone.