MARIEMONT

To Ron

You're very nice, stay that way. But for heavens sake, please let me go to Miami next year. I'd know when you think of me you'll remember our dear, dear, biology class and those poor frogs!

foreword

Together we have met the challenge of this important year. Coming from Terrace Park, Plainville, Fairfax, and Mariemont, we joined forces to make 1957-58 a year to remember. When a whole school works together the way we have, building strong foundations for our future, growing in knowledge and character, succeeding everywhere, we can't be anything but "champs" in every field. There's something behind this work, there's a Mariemont spirit which has captured us all and keeps us prisoners for life under the pledge, "to thee we will be true."

We hope each time you pick up this book that same spirit surges through you and you feel that same togetherness as you relive each moment of this year. If this happens we have achieved our highest goal.

The beginning of each new day at Mariemont High brought us all from different directions. Some of us rode the bus, some of us walked, some of us drove, and some of us rode bicycles. This year many benefits were bestowed upon our school by the addition of Terrace Park. We were all to discover that in order to keep up our rank in class and our grades, we had to put forth a little more effort to achieve this, for the competition was stiffened. We met many new people and made many new friends. By working together, we helped them to adjust to our way of school life. However, no matter where we came from or what our means of transportation, we all had the same purpose for coming together—to work, to play, and to learn.

Our study halls provided an opportune time for reviewing for that test the next bell, looking over an assignment, getting help from someone when we did not understand a subject or beginning on the next day's assignment. We remember some of those hours we wasted in study halls, but there is always next year.

of our

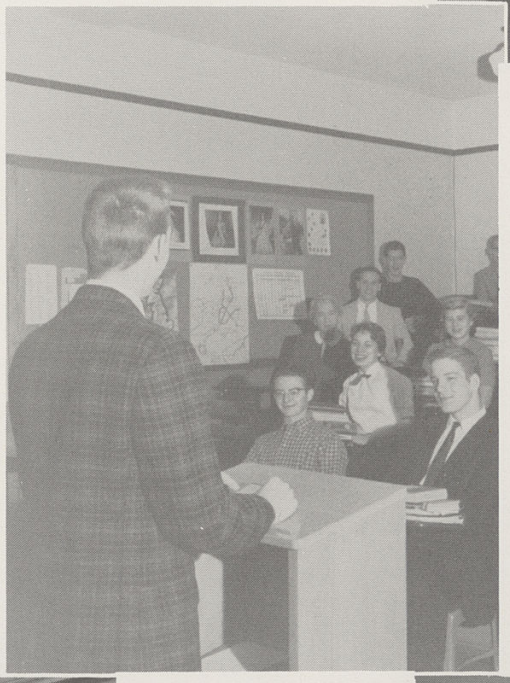
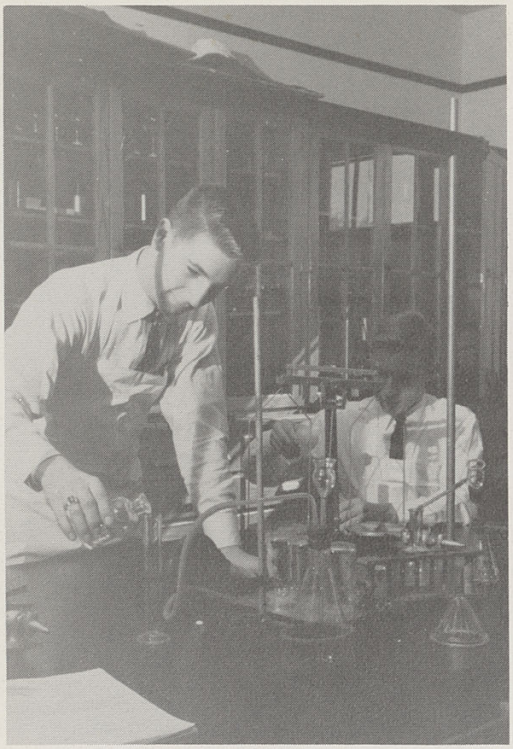
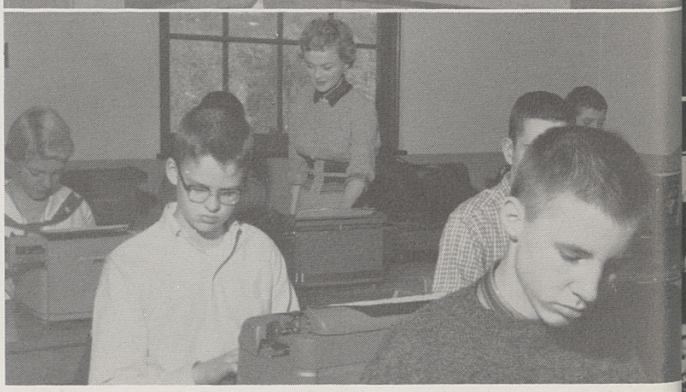
In speech class we worked together on many projects We planned debates and open forums. By discussing a student's speech, good and bad points, we helped each other improve.

What fun we had working together during biology lab periods disecting animals, doing lab workbooks, and working on special projects!







Remember the first day we entered the chemistry room? Everyone of us was just positive that he would be the one to blow up the school. But we made it through without any casualties by helping each other. We each had a lab partner which meant we shared our equipment. Together we did our experiments. Right or wrong, they were fun to do.

Some of us in art never thought we would be able to draw a straight line, but we really turned out some beautiful pictures. The new art room was a real blessing in every way. Some had waited so long to take ceramics and now it had become possible.

Although we did not have the vaguest idea how to boil an egg, we soon learned in Home Ec. Why! some of us can now sew and cook almost as well as our mothers.

The saws in the industrial arts room were always buzzing. Beautiful objects of wood were produced and many wonderful gadgets made for the home.

That clickety-clack that we heard in study hall was the typing class busily typing together. We had many stiff fingers but we certainly learned to type.

classes in action

In gym we learned to be good sports. Oh, at times it was a temptation to be mad because the other team won, but we soon realized that it isn't just winning that counts, but learning to be a good sport, win or lose.

Then came the time some of us tried to get elected to Student Council. The midnight oil burned the night before trying to prepare a speech that would convince our class that we should be on Council.

We had some wonderful assemblies this year. It made us especially proud when we participated in them.

Those lunch periods were so much fun! That is when we really got the chance to meet new faces. We remember some of the things we discussed over that good cafeteria food.

Those of us that were part of the band really learned to work together. We had to and by doing so, gave the school one of the finest bands that it has ever had.

After school we often had informal sessions with our teachers enabling us to get better acquainted with them.

This year proved to be very beneficial and enjoyable in every aspect. Everyone of these classes taught us what togetherness means, and to the seniors, it is a word with a meaning we shall never forget.

You've been our constant inspiration. Mr. Mahan, you do much more than teach, you instill in each of us a wonderful curiosity to learn and read and find out for ourselves. We're no longer satisfied to be naive, because you have made science and culture too interesting to pass by. With your help, we discovered that some poetry is masculine enough to be entertaining and that lots of books are really worth reading. You've changed the names of authors into exciting human beings, and proved that "Words Are Important". You've made literature live.

Your understanding of our individual needs, and your desire to bring out the best in each of us has had a lasting influence on our lives and achievements. Any time, any place, you're the friend who is ready to help us with our problems or listen to our chatter.

We will never forget you or the doors you have unlocked for us. To you, Mr. Mahan, we dedicate this book.

"And gladly would he learn, and gladly teach."

Chaucer very aptly and ably describes our entire teaching staff and administrators at Mariemont High School in this succinct quotation in the Prologue to The Canterbury Tales.

Our teachers are constantly broadening their fields of study in order to guide us in our quest for knowledge.

The boundaries of our classroom work are not the boundaries of our teachers' work. Their classroom hours are augmented by many additional hours in the preparation for the actual teaching.

An inadequate list of the numerous details required of our indefatigable faculty to teach would read something like this: Prepare the daily lessons; prepare tests and semester examinations, check and grade the numerous homework papers and compile reports of the progress of each student every six weeks. They keep abreast of the changing educational program and somehow find time to attend workshops. Do we students fully appreciate the patience, work, and perseverance necessary to accomplish all of this?

Then whom do we call upon to sponsor our extra-curricular activities? The teachers, of course! More time, patience and creative ability is necessary and is gladly given by them.

The theme of our yearbook is "Working Together." Our teachers epitomize this theme. Visitors to our school have often commented on how smoothly our school runs in all its branches of activity. This smoothness is the result of our "Working Together" under the guidance of our teachers.

The responsibility of a teacher is tremendous.

Amos Bronson Alcott once said: "The true teacher defends his pupils against his own personal influence. He inspires self-distrust. He guides their eyes from himself to the spirit that quickens him. He will have no disciple."

Our teachers train us to think for ourselves. They teach us that we must not take the word of just one book, but must delve into the broader aspects of a subject and seek all the possible information on that particular subject.

They train us not only with their knowledge, but also with their understanding.

They guide us to realize that although academic learning is of great importance, even more important will be our strength of character with which they have played so great a part in helping us, as students, to develop.

So to you, Our Faculty, who so willingly "gladly teach" go our many thanks for all you have done, and all you will continue to do to prove that you are not only our teachers, but our friends.

TO THE CLASS OF 1958

Words cannot adequately express the sentiments that are justly due the members of this, the largest, and one of the finest classes of graduating seniors in the history of Mariemont High School. You are aware of the amazing scientific developments taking place throughout the world today and one can expect even greater miracles in the world of tomorrow. To be alive in such an age is indeed a rare privilege.

One of the essentials necessary for success in any endeavor is that of high purpose and great ideals. We trust that the educational opportunities made available to you thus far will make it possible for each and every one of you to maintain the highest ideals and thus achieve your ultimate goal in the challenging world of tomorrow.

Senior, the magic word that makes you ten feet tall. Last year just a junior, next year a lowly freshman, but this year a senior. To say, "I'm a senior", means more than, "I've finished eleven years of school." It means, "I've finally stepped into that top spot I've been watching for six years." It means, "I've got to grow up, and accept responsibilities."

This was our senior year, a year to remember. The "best" year has just rushed by, but it has left its lasting mark on each of us. Though our school days may grow hazy as they are stuffed into the attic of the past, we won't forget the wonderful year when we were seniors and Mariemont High School was ours.

Never before and never again will we cram so much work and fun and excitement and sadness into one short year. We ran the Warpath, headed Student Council, broke school records, helped with the Variety Show, put on a play, led the band, headed the clubs, were big wheels, walked in last to assemblies, got the choice seats, dominated the athletic field, and won, won, won. Our year was made up of thousands of unforgettable moments: the first day in the auditorium; the biggest Pow Wow ever; selling magazines; goofing up a physics experiment; the championship football game; the pizza party; income tax with Mr. Gossard; the first game in the new gym; "Papa Is All"; the Wigwam; college boards; singing The Fight Song; the Variety Show; pep assemblies; 8:13; Macbeth; the big dances; signing Chieftains; cleaning out the old locker; the Prom; trying on caps and gowns; that sinking feeling when we realized that we would never walk down that hall as students again. A full year with an ending and a beginning at Commencement . . .

"Hail blue and gold, to thee we will be true,
Where'er we go, whatever we do,
When years have passed and turned to memories,
Dear to our hearts thou shall forever be."

"Together we stand" . . . ready to face the future because of the strong foundations we have built here at Mariemont High School. Yes, we've spent six wonderful years together, but the "best" year was our senior year, a year to remember.

Freezing weather and slippery fields are all routine to our senior drum majorettes.

E. H. L. All-Star Team

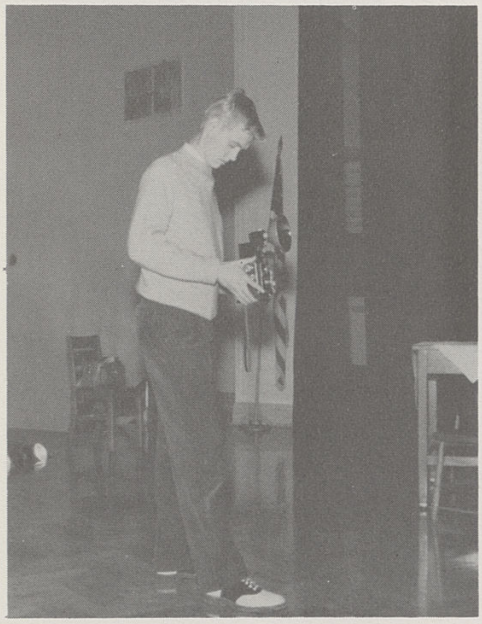
The Eastern Hills League all-star team was predominately Mariemont players — six offensive & six defensive players.

National Honor Society

Citizenship, scholarship, leadership, service — these are the criteria on which members are chosen.

New Band Uniforms

Senior band members proudly display the handsome new uniforms which many helped to earn.



Wally Wyatt

The Chieftain's photographer is much in demand. His pictures can make or break an annual. Here they are; hope you like them.

Candy McCollum

Candy was elected Governor of Buckeye Girls' State by 720 girls. The Amer. Legion Aux. presented this dress to her for her inauguration.

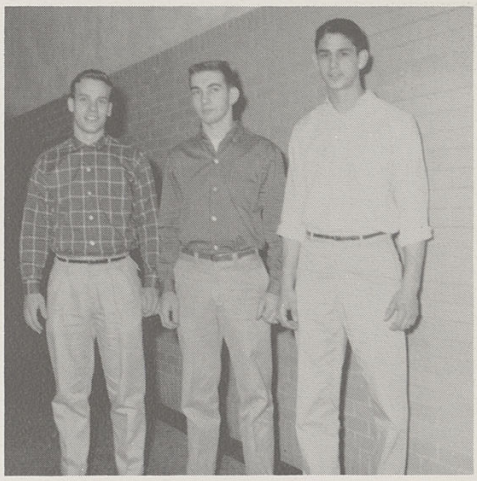
Tom Brady and Don Fender honored both themselves and the school by making the first-string City All-Star Team.

Also honored were Bill D. and John who made second string and Bill R. who made honorable mention on the team. All these boys played a terrific season and deserve every bit of recognition they received.



Dunham, Spees, and Roehrich

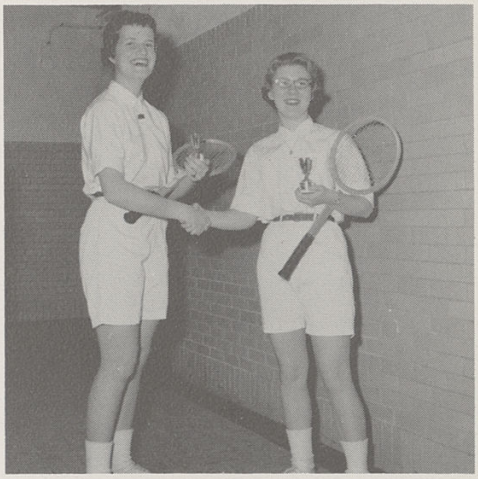
displayed their skill in tennis by clinching the title of "District Doubles Champs."

We're proud of the runners-up in the women's doubles in the Metropolitan Tennis Tournament.



Karen Kleine and Virginia Straley

Bill Dunham and Jim McKee

These boys earned outstanding city football records! Jim led the city in conversions and Bill ranked third in touchdowns.

Wayne maintained the highest average in Latin for three years and was presented the J.C.L. Honor Key.

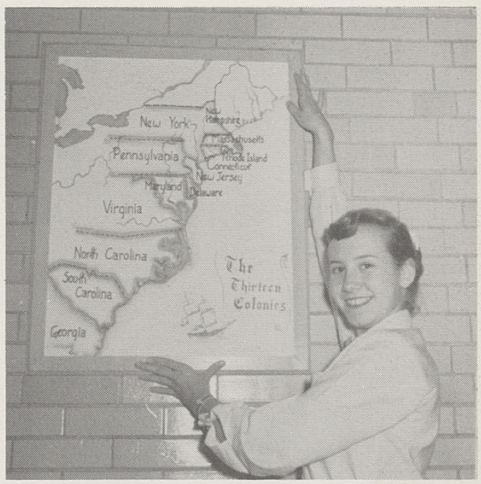
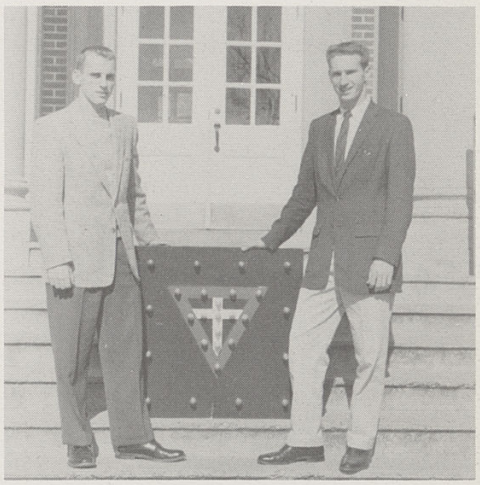
Yes — here's your gal . . .



Candy McCollum

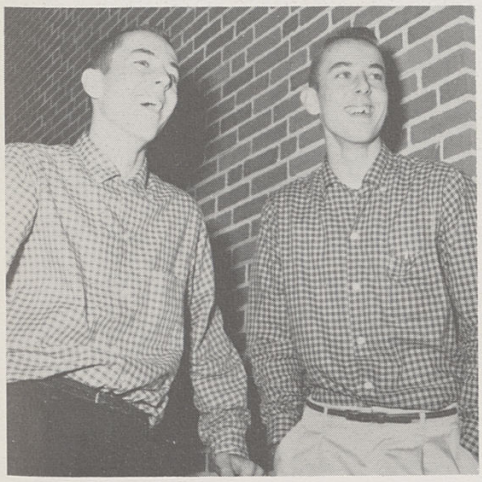
Gail Jurgens and Carole Graeter attended the Publications Workshop at Ohio U. There we learned the techniques and finepoints necessary to publish a fine annual.

We were chosen to attend Camp Nelson Dodd, just outside Columbus, for a week of basic training on how to operate a good Hi-Y Club.



Byron Lehman and Fred Vandervort

Dick and Don Mileham are two of the same. Their parents wished one, but got two to name. One is indebted for life to the other, For two heads would one have if't weren't for his brother.



We were the lucky girls chosen to represent Mariemont H. S. in the Shillito's H. S. Sewing Board.

It is in these years that we learn what togetherness means. Always before we have been just grade school or junior high. Suddenly we are actually a part of Mariemont High School. We know that as high schoolers we must work together to advance its standing as well as our own. We feel a swell of pride when we hear our band playing the Alma Mater. Some of us join the band or chorus and here again, we learn the importance of keeping together.

In these first years of high school the boys go out for sports. Whether it be football, basketball, track, or any sport, we discover what togetherness means to a team. In the stands, we cheer and sing our fight song together. Maybe after the game we meet for a party and learn the fun of being together. On Sunday, many of us worship together and on Monday morning we begin another school week.

Remember the class projects? What fun it is working together on the Twirp Twirl, the paper drives, and finally, the Prom. In our junior year we get our long awaited class rings that bind us all the more closely together. For the juniors, the class play is an important event. A big part of every high school student's life is membership in the various clubs and organizations. Through these we learn to know each other a little better.

We realize what our cooperation means to every group in which we participate. We discover that together we can do many things that we cannot do alone. Yes—working together, playing together, learning together—all of these help us to grow together. And togetherness is a goal worth working for.

WHAT IT IS TO BE A JUNIOR

It is really great to be a Junior with a brand-new class ring—at long last! Although we are not quite at the top, we are close enough to get a little dizzy and light-headed from the height. Along with this feeling goes the honor and privilege of being called a junior. A lot of people are depending, trusting and guiding us, and we cannot let them down. As upperclassmen it is incumbent upon us to show the way and set the example for the underclassmen; this must be done with care and consideration.

There is a great deal of hard work connected with being a junior. This year our subjects are harder than ever; and by having more competition for class ranking, we really have to WORK to keep up those grades! As juniors we have the chance to hold high offices in the various organizations and to help more with the governing of the school, besides our big project—giving the seniors the Prom.

The Prom takes more work and cooperation than anything we have ever attempted. There are a million and one little details depending on one general thing—money. The class play is another important project that requires cooperation and work, but is a lot of fun.

All in all, being a junior is something pretty special. Although we have many duties and a lot of hard work, there is so much fun and enjoyment in it all that we do not mind or remember the troubles and worries.

Bev Lotz

COMPETITION

The Junior Class is the most competitive class in Mariemont High School, scholastically.

Competition is a good quality for any group to have. A highly competitive group of persons can accomplish much. The reason for this is that persons wishing to excel will put forth the extra effort. When more work is done, the standards of the class are raised, and everyone works harder to rise to them. A favorable chain reaction is begun which advances the quality of the group as a whole.

Competition comes from people's natural desire to rise. Most people have it, but there are those who, seeing those above them, are inclined to take the inert attitude. Our class is blessed with a large number of competitive people who give a motivation to carry many of its members to the top of whatever field they wish to enter.

Competitive spirit is a very important part of a democracy. It promotes individual as well as group advancement. A group with no competitive spirit will soon be deterred and will not rise. The same applies to any individual.

All the juniors with this spark deserve a respectful glance because they are the ones who will rise and become the leaders of tomorrow's complex and competitive world.

Dick Crone

HOMEWORK

I have been in three different high schools in the past four years, and believe it or not, Mariemont assigns the most homework. I think homework is a very fine thing, as long as the amount is not too heavy. When there is a lot of homework assigned, it tends to discourage me. The teachers all seem to pile on the homework at the same time, and expect you to have it all in at the same time. I personally think school hours run from 8 A.M. to 10 P.M. To most students, three o'clock is just like another change of class, because, when they get home, they have to study twice as hard as during regular school hours. I do not think the teachers realize how much mental strain is involved in studying for hours at a time, trying to remember four or five different subjects, then coming back to school and being expected to know everything, down to the last detail. There are a few students who can do this, but on the whole, the students find it very difficult. They have to give up many things in order to pass their different subjects. Because of this, the students depend on their ability to memorize to carry them through. Without this ability, there would be many more failures in school today. The teachers try to convince the students that when they memorize something, they have not learned it. Yet what is to be expected when they have seven or eight hours to study four or five different subjects. Daily homework is not enough, the student is expected to do extra work every six weeks, book reports, progress reports, themes, and so on. I think if the amount of homework could be cut in every subject, the student would be able to spend the same amount of time on each subject, and would understand each one more thoroughly.

Donald Isenhower

ENJOY LIFE

I would like to speak on how to enjoy life. The best way to enjoy life is not to worry about anything. I once read a book about a fellow who worried himself right into the crazy house. The way I figure it, by golly, is, "Why take such a horrible chance?" In my way of thinking, nothing is worth worrying about.

I recall that one time before a football game I worried myself sick about the game. I never played such a terrible game in my life. I was so nervous that I could not do one thing right until the tension finally wore off.

Do not get me wrong. Everyone has duties and responsibilities. When these duties involve someone else, they had better be taken seriously. This does not mean worrying about them. Just carry your burden to the best of your ability and do not worry about it. Failure, I believe, is the result of consistent worrying. Enjoy life and you will be the better for it.

My philosophy is have faith in God, believe in yourself, trust others, and have a good time. And remember, don't worry!

Clayton Shea

"FIGHT TEAM FIGHT"

Mariemont has an exceptional amount of school spirit. Every year it has increased, and this year the students have really tried to show the teams that we are behind them all the way.

The kickoff this year was the traditional Pow-Wow. The purpose of this parade is to show the team that the whole school is ready to cheer them to victory. Win or lose, rain or shine, the students are always ready to sing out the Fight Song.

The pep assemblies are enjoyed and supported by most of the students. The cheerleaders and the Pep Club deserve recognition for all the hard work and energy they put into promoting school spirit. The cheerleaders always seem to know the right time to cheer and the Pep Club is responsible for the encouraging signs and posters found in the halls and classrooms.

When our football team captured the Eastern Hills League Championship, the champs were escorted by the students in a victory parade. The student body of Mariemont is proud of the Blue and Gold.

We, the students of Mariemont are proud of our capable teams. When we bring them on the football field or the basketball court with the Fight Song, we show the team that we know they can win. Let us hope that this school spirit will last throughout our years and make it known to other schools that "We're from Mariemont and couldn't be any prouder!"

DO YOU REALIZE by Nancy Reynolds

Mariemont is a pleasant town; the people are all so friendly. A big advantage of living in a small village is that everything is so close. Two excellent schools, a wonderful church and recreation center, all kinds of stores at our picturesque square, and a spacious playfield are right here in Mariemont for our pleasure and convenience.

We also have very fine leaders here in our town: our mayor, our police force, our teachers, and our church leaders are of the best.

Here in our village, Mariemont, we have nearly everything any town could want—let's learn to appreciate it!

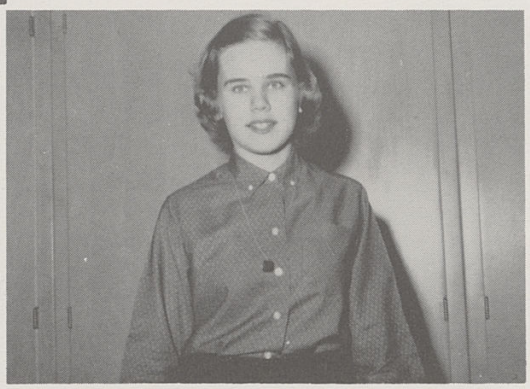
WORK NOW by Don Mehnert

Problems and jobs in this complex world are many, and there are many open fields for any individual who is qualified to fill them, but one must have a solid educational background. Today this proves difficult for there are many more students than ever before; as a result the educational facilities are overflowing.

In the United States everyone can get a high school education. In order to move ahead in your chosen field it is not enough to have just a high school education; it is almost imperative to have a college education. However, it is becoming more difficult to obtain this because of the crowded conditions. It has become necessary to have a high scholastic average as well as money to enter our schools of higher learning. Now, here at Mariemont, you all have a fine opportunity to lay a good foundation for college. Work while there is still time, and later take your place as a leader of men!

Bill Gehler placed first in the district and first in the State in the Amer. Legion Essay Contest and won an expense paid trip to Washington, D. C.

Barb Cade placed first in the state in English and first in the district. She also won again artistically. This time it was a third in the State in the Poppy Poster Contest.



The Mamboettes—Judy Corken, Karen Iredale, Carole Cosby, and Caryl McDaniel have been quite busy this year with their feature performances at the professional Basketball games at the Cincinnati Gardens.

LIFE OF A SOPHOMORE by Dick Sininger

A sophomore is slightly past the midpoint of high school life. Although he does not have so many responsibilities as a junior or a senior, the sophomore finds that his work is increased. He feels that he is more important in school for many reasons. In sports, a sophomore becomes more important. He is freer to choose his own schedule. He can join new clubs such as Hi-Y, and J.C.L. The one activity sophomores do not have which I would enjoy is some participation in a play. Otherwise, I think the status of a sophomore at Mariemont is very satisfying.

the freshmen speak

I am fascinated by the school building itself; I love big buildings. I love to try to dodge the other people while hurrying to another class. I do not want longer bells. It gives me a thrill and a challenge to see if I can make it to the next class between bells.

I am average in some subjects and good in only one but sometimes it worries me when I think I goofed on a test. I thought I really had, but it turned out that I didn't do so bad. Whew!

On the whole I don't mind school or the homework, if I get it all done, but I do mind getting out of bed every morning.

Lois Kirby

Although most varsity sports are very well supported at Mariemont, reserve, freshman, and Jr. High contests are rarely seen by many. At a freshman basketball game, I was amazed to see at least fifty people there, that is, counting both teams, the coaches, scorekeepers, and cheerleaders who were compelled to be there. I know that all participants in sports would try much harder if there were people to cheer them on. Cheerleaders need someone to lead.

Some varsity spring sports are neglected by spectators. All these contests are after school and the admission is usually free. It seems that more people would come to these games, but they don't. Why?

Bob Baden

A freshman, according to upper-classmen, shouldn't speak but . . . we do.

When you're a Freshman you're someone who the Seniors look down upon and say "My, I didn't know you were in High School yet." Everyone is a Freshman at one time or another so why worry?

Our social life is the same as upper classmen but on a smaller scale. We attend dances, games and parties. It is just our luck in this school that there are seventh and eighth graders that we may look down upon.

One normally would say that Freshmen are small and you look down upon them, but in this generation most Freshmen are tall. But why am I telling you, you're not a Freshman, or are you?

Jane Cade

The freshmen have an important part in M.H.S. We are the ones who will represent the school in future events. If we get the proper training, Mariemont will benefit. In the future sports of M.H.S. will be benefited by the freshmen. The reserve football team this year, (composed of freshmen and sophomores), won all their league games and all of them by an overwhelming score. We had only one touchdown scored against us in league play, while we scored many. We beat our closest rival by about thirty points. On the scholastic side of things we do well also. Yes, I think Mariemont will be proud of its freshmen.

have fun together

During the Curriculum of a school day there is little chance of getting to know and working with students of another grade. It really isn't necessary while in the classroom. The emphases is put on individualism. It is the student's responsibility to get as much out of his education as he possibly can. This individualism is vital in a person's personality, but just as important is his ability to get along with other people. Every human should know how to work with other people toward a common goal. This togetherness is developed through activities.

Activities cannot exist without some form of togetherness. Members of the various activities must work as a team, disregarding class barriers. No matter if the purpose of the association is of a scholastic, athletic, social, or vocational nature. The goal will never be reached if everyone refuses to work together. One person's effort is of little help—it must be a united effort. Team work always produces excellent results and sense of accomplishment that can be experienced in no other way. Often it turns a dream into reality.

Through activities, a person can also get to know himself. He can discover his ability in other fields besides the classroom. Even more important, he must learn to budget his time. In this way activities require a person to know himself and to realize that he must also be an individual. Thus the cycle is completed—an individual cannot be well rounded without some form of togetherness existing between himself and other students; yet, a person must express individualism in knowing himself and what he is capable of doing.

Last May, thirty students from M.H.S. visited the campus of Miami University for the purpose of racking their brains to try to place high in the District-State Scholarship Tests. We had been chosen to represent our high school after having made the highest scores in preliminary tests, taken about a month earlier. There were two competing in each subject at Miami.

Though we all agreed that we had to get up much too early in the morning, and one student even professed to be taking "Sleep-walking I", we did quite well, earning two first places, a second, a third, and a sixth place in the state. We hope to continue to do as well for many years to come.

This year the Student Council was very active in promoting school affairs. The members contributed a lot of thought and hard work toward making our school more efficient and more enjoyable in which to live and work.

At the start of the school year, a new and better Student Directory was produced. The Council also bought a mirrored globe, which was rented to various school organizations for use at dances. The Student Handbook was prepared later in the year.

The Pep Club, sponsored by the Student Council, was dominant especially during the football and basketball seasons, backing several victory parades and helping to cheer our teams on. A regular meeting was held as an assembly program, to acquaint the student body with the workings of their governing council.

The Council sent each of its members to meetings of a local council organization. A few members attended workshops, and brought back valuable information to the council.

These and numerous other activities rounded out another successful year for the Student Council.

The Pep Club is a relatively new club at Mariemont. Its main purpose is to stimulate school and team spirit during the football, basketball, baseball, tennis, and track seasons. The members' lively participation is characterized in pep rallies, posters, locker slips, cheering, and parades. Working with the cheerleaders, we held colorful parades before the Pow Wow and other athletic events.

This year Pep Club was still under the supervision of Student Council. However, as of next year, it will be a separate organization. If the teams are to be successful, it is necessary to have a strong Pep Club with the willing help of each member.

A cheerleader has a terrific job. Lots of fun and lots of work go into preparing pep meetings and cheers for the games. Our main object is to get that crowd to cheer louder and longer than any other, so that our boys know they have the whole school behind them. We not only want them to win, we want to help them. This year has been "the best" in the lives of these cheerleaders; the longest parades, the loudest crowds, the most co-operation, the best teams to cheer, and top school spirit.

A superficial scansion of the Mariemont High School Senior Band presents an appearance of a well-dressed, amicable organization. But to the bandsman, and especially the senior bandsman, the new uniforms and co-ordinate, pleasant association of the band are but a few of the intangible but memorable exemplifications of the fine work of Alton F. Downer, Director.

What bandsman will forget, in years to come, the cold nights on the football field, the cheering crowds, the bus rides, the indoor concerts, the concerts on the greens, U. C. Band day, the basketball games, the spirit-inspiring fight song, or the swelling strains of the Alma Mater? Who, after many years of hard work and service to the band, will not be among the group which remembers the excitement of moving into the new band-room, the pride of attending an honor banquet and receiving a letter, or the pleasure of making enjoyable music with his fellow classmates?

These are just a few of the unseen experiences of one of the finest organizations at Mariemont that will be cherished and most remembered to us as a co-operative group.

With the addition of Terrace Park students to Mariemont this year, there was an addition to the usual majorette corps.

Besides the participation of the majorettes in the football halftime shows, they also were a part of the University of Cincinnati Band Day which was held in November.

A continuation of this year's majorette corps was the pom-pom Corps which performed at the basketball games. An additional number of girls were needed for this, but the majorettes came into the group as regular members.

Along with the Memorial Day parade, which always claims the Mariemont Band and majorettes, this year has been a busy one.

chorus

This year the chorus enrollment was the largest it has ever been. There were 125 members in all. We gained not only quantity, but quality.

This year's program was a very successful one. We joined Mr. Downer and his band in a Music Assembly for the school; were in the school Christmas Assembly; and presented a Christmas Program for the PTA.

In February we again teamed up with the band in a winter concert for the public. We sang at Easter, and in the Variety Show. In the spring we gave an out-door concert which was open to the public. Our last appearance was at Baccalaureate.

Under the direction of Mr. Allread the chorus did an outstanding job this year. There was a lot of work involved, but we had our share of fun too.

We began a very profitable and enjoyable year for the Senior Home Ec. Club by selling cake, cider, hot dogs, hot chocolate, and coffee at all home football games.

Our first trip took us three places: Henry Harris dress shop; Mayor's Friendly Relations Committee, and the Central Trust Bank. Our second trip was to the Cincinnati Youth Center.

In the educational field, we had two fine speakers, Mrs. Marjorie Harth, who spoke about flowers, and Mr. Ralph Budai, who told us about insurance.

We all feel that we learned a lot of interesting and educational facts.

twirp week

For just one delightful week during the year M.H.S. does a complete turnabout and the boys are recipients of the courtesies which at all other times it is their duty to perform for the girls. During this week many fabulous activities take place and for which THE WOMAN IS REQUESTED TO PAY. There is a taffy pull, a night designated for the movie, and a bermuda day, all packed full of fun and excitement. Then for a terrific climax to the whole week there is a simply stupendous dance at which a king and queen of the Twirps are elected. At midnight, Twirp week is officially ended amidst all the gaiety and rollicking fun of the dance and once more everything returns to normal for the fifty-one weeks until next Twirp Week.

A terrific climax for an undefeated season — this was what M-Teens strived for and achieved by their Football Royale. The gym took on a new appearance that night. The theme, of course, was Football, and everywhere you cast your eyes in the gym, you saw something significant of football. Football balloons were provided as favors for the girls. The tables looked like miniature football fields with blue and gold crepe paper representing the yard lines. Football players, all sizes and shapes, lined the walls. And lastly at the magic midnight hour, all thoughts turned to the huge crepe paper football throne where two very deserving people were crowned to reign as King and Queen of Football. And who could have been more deserving of this honor than Bill Dunham, a wonderful football player, and Darlene Shineberger, peppy Captain of the cheerleaders.

". . . and the king and queen of the 1958 Basketball Season are . . ." The voice sputtered over the loud speaker, then a pause . . .silence . . . and the voice rang out loud and clear, "Lynne Heil and Rich Isphording." The crowd closed in shouting cheers and congratulations. The spotlight glared catching the sparkle of crowns and presents and smiles and twinkling eyes. This was their night as they descended from their high throne to start the first dance after midnight in the famous Cafe' de Paris. The G.A.A. made the sidewalk Cafe' complete with red and white awnings of crepe paper which surrounded the gym, checker board covered tables, Frenchmen, candle-light, menus, and lamp posts.

A wonderful season, a wonderful dance, a wonderful king and queen — cheerleader Lynne, and basketball Captain Rich.

Lynne and Rich

basketball's royalty

The 1957-58 athletic year has been one of Mariemont's best. All the boys have worked long and hard to help their respective teams. They have kept their training rules and practiced long hours after school, sacrificing their time and energies, all for you and your school. They have played fairly and with the best of sportsmanship and have always done their best to win and to carry out Mariemont's high reputation. And they, as well as all the students, faculty, and loyal fans, have maintained a high degree of spirit and enthusiasm, beginning with the most high-spirited Pow Wows ever, and continuing throughout the year.

Of course, no team would be a good team without good coaching. Our coaching staff is one of the best and most complete in Mariemont's history, and, under the direction of our athletic director, Mr. Norman "Doc" Kusel, the coaches have done a terrific job with their teams. They have given their time and effort to help and advise the boys and get them into shape. The fine records made by all of our teams attest to the coaches' and the boys' work and determination to do their best for M. H. S.

Although there are many arguments both for and against high school athletics, we at Mariemont sincerely believe in a strong athletic system, that, although secondary to acedemics, it is a valuable supplement to a well-rounded high school program.

This was our first year in the newly-formed Eastern Hills League which includes the Indian Hill, Loveland, Madeira, Mariemont, Milford, and New Richmond high schools. Mariemont High School has been a leader and has made a good start in the movement to make this new league one of the best and toughest in the area.

In the fall, football is the only sport in which we take part, although it appears to dominate the sports scene the whole nine months of the school year. Late fall and winter sends the round-ball players into the sports high-lights. With more teams than ever—both school and club—the basketball program is developing into one desirable of all high schools. In the spring, many of the boys who were teammates the previous months, go their separate ways, each to choose the sport most suited to himself. Baseball, track, tennis, and golf are those offered, while an active but friendly rivalry between the baseball men and track boys is enjoyed. So, no matter who you are, what your size, or grade, your chances of participating in any number of high school sports at Mariemont are practically unlimited.

Yes, this is what athletics mean to the growing youths of M. H. S.

This year's football season was one of the best in the history of M. H. S. The team started practicing on August 20th with one thought in mind, to win every game. Before we could win, we set three goals which we must attain. The first was to beat Milford. They had won their League Championship the year before and were out to win this one. The second was to win the League Championship. The sports writers picked us to do it and we had to live up to it. The third goal was to have an undefeated season. It is a terrific feeling to know that none of your opponents can beat you. It also adds to the glory of winning your League Championship.

Our first game of the year was played at Lockland. Our defense was a big factor in this game, holding them scoreless for four quarters. When the final gun went off the score read: Mariemont 25, Lockland 0, and Lockland ended their season M.V.I.L. Champs.

It was a wet, rainy night when Wyoming came to Mariemont. They had been picked to win the M.V.I.L., and to beat us by fourteen points. Although the Wyoming game ended as a tie, nearly everyone —including the opposing team's coach—thought the Cowboys lucky to have a tie.

During the season the team sometimes forgot they had to work in order to leave the gridiron victorious, as in the Madeira game. After a scoreless first half, the Warriors came back with a confident 34 to 0 win.

On the second play of the Loveland game, we jumped to a 7 to 0 lead. After this, we weren't to be stopped until we had scored three more touchdowns.

Our next game was with Indian Hill. We piled up a total of nine touchdowns and six extra points to win our third consecutive League game.

With the season half over, we went into the New Richmond game with many boys out with the flu. After scoring two touchdowns in the first half, we came back late in the third quarter to add the final marker. The only remaining obstacle between the Warriors and the E.H.L. title was Milford.

The following game was a non-league encounter with North College Hill. By winning this game, we were one step closer to our undefeated season.

In each game, we fought hard enough to win by a large margin. The only exception to this was in the freezing cold of the Deer Park game, when the score ended with us only seven points the better.

Milford was the last game of the season. Everything rested on this one game: the E.H.L. title; an undefeated season; and the fulfillment of our three goals . . . It was a warm Saturday afternoon when we met the Eagles on our field. Going into the locker room at the half, we were ahead by only seven points. The second half of the championship game ended with a score of 34 to 0, and everyone in Mariemont knew they positively had a "Championship Team."

One of the main reasons for the numerous victories was the good bench strength of the team. Because there was much competition inside the team for various positions, the team as a whole became better competitors against all other teams.

The entire team would like to give its thanks to the excellent coaching staff, for without their help, our Championship would never have been possible.

basketball's championship team

This year's Varsity Basketball team was second only to the State Championship team. This team had class; it had poise; it had ability; but most of all it had team work and team confidence. The team's first five which was called by many the "Fabulous Five," was composed of four seniors—Captain Rich Isphording, Harold McDaniel, Don Fender, and Jim McKee, plus a junior—Dick Crone.

The team compiled a 16 won—2 lost season for an excellent year. They remained undefeated in league play compiling a won and lost record of 10-0 entitling them to the EHL crown. We placed three players on the EHL league team; Rich Isphording and Harold McDaniel were seated among the first five; Dick Crone secured an honorable mention.

The team was a credit to both itself and the school. It played as a unit and won as a unit. Being undefeated in the first fifteen contests, they set a new school record.

The team had a love for the game; a lust for competition, and an eagerness and excellence for playing. These Warriors won many well deserved victories.

The first venture in the new Eastern Hills League was a successful one for the 1958 Reserves. Due to shortness of practice, the team dropped its first game but gained power and redeemed itself as the season progressed. freshman basketball Sparked by the enthusiasm shown by the new freshman cheerleaders, the freshman squad started off its season with a bang. At first indication it seemed as if we would be unbeaten, but then after losing to Mt. Healthy by only one point in the most exciting game of the season, those hopes were shattered. Still undaunted, we continued to play our games with the fighting spirit characteristic to M.H.S. and whether we won or lost we knew we played our games well.

Butch Coward

varsity baseball

The 1957 Mariemont High School Baseball team had a successful season. The team was very well-balanced with a good pitching staff, a strong outfield, and a close-knit infield. The team's hitting started slowly but picked up momentum as the season progressed.

The Warriors played some fine teams, gaining much experience for the next campaigns and also a good reputation. As there were only four graduating members of the squad, a team of more experience and even greater success is expected in 1958.

The squad was affected for a short time because of the illness of its fine coach, Mr. Ernsting. The boys kept on, however, keeping Mariemont in the baseball spotlight, finishing with a respectable 5 won, 5 lost record. To the captain and leading hitter, Bill McCormack, we give our praise for his sterling play and leadership. Dave Merchant, Rich Daniels, and Jack Nantz were the other outstanding seniors whom we are sorry to see leave the field of action for M.H.S.

We know that these seniors will long remember their baseball triumphs and the school will long remember the excellent play performed by the M.H.S. Baseball Team during the '57 season.

The 1957 Mariemont High School Track Team was one of the mightiest teams ever to wear the blue and gold of Mariemont. Although they opened the season with a heartbreaking defeat at the hands of Western Hills, the team went on to victories over all its other opponents, including such schools as Sycamore, Milford, Colerain, Lockland, Wyoming, Anderson and others. The Warriors went on to several honorable accomplishments in the Relays, becoming co-champions of the Lockland Night Relays, runner-up at the Harrison Relays and third place at the Mariemont Invitational. The real prize of the season was the winning of the M. V. I. L. Meet. The team consisted of Rich Isphording at first singles; Bill Bredenforder at second singles; Dave Lamb at third singles; Bob McClure and Bob Myers, who compiled the best won and lost record—twelve and four—at first doubles; and Dave Lindsay and Dick Garver at the second doubles position. Isphording and Bredenforder captured the District Doubles Championship.

The biggest thrill of the whole tournament was defeating the highly-favored Wyoming team. Later Rich and Bill traveled to Columbus to take part in the State tournament.

The Girls' Athletic Association, one of the most active clubs in M. H. S., had a full schedule during 1957-58. The sports program consisted of intramural and interscholastic contests in hockey, volleyball, basketball, softball, tennis and golf. Throughout the year pingpong, riding, bowling, and swimming were also enjoyed by the members.

Social life constituted a large part of the activities of G.A.A. The events included: the Initiation Picnic, Stunt Night, the Christmas Party, sponsorship of the Basketball Bounce, and the Banquet.

The G.A.A. girls served at the Letter Banquets, sold football and basketball season passes, and served the Moms and Dads at the Parent's Night football game.

The year was concluded with a banquet honoring the outstanding members of the organization and announcing the class winner of the G.A.A. plaque.

G.A.A. has grown into a fine organization where a girl can display her skill, sportsmanship, and team spirit—all three playing an important part in growing up.

Step by step . . . Standing on the threshold of our high school career we are aware of the years of work ahead of us and realize that if we take them step by step they will be years of fun and happiness.

Being in junior high is a new experience for all of us. There are so many new things to contend with, so many new faces to remember and names to learn that we wonder if we will ever become accustomed to everything and acquire the nonchalant assurance of the upperclassmen. It seems strange at first to change from room to room for each different class, to be allowed to elect student council representatives and class officers who will have some voice in the manner in which the school is run, or to take part in the special organizations set up just for junior high; but this strangeness soon wears off and we take pride in accepting our new role as junior adults. Actually these new responsibilities are the first step toward adulthood — one of the most important steps of our life here at M.H.S.

In addition to all the school work, there seems to be an astounding number of organizations, clubs, and teams with which to occupy our time and to teach us to work together toward our goal. What fun it is to participate in a football or basketball game and learn the teamwork which bring glory to ourselves and victory for the team! Or, if we must be spectators, what more exciting thing is there than to watch your team become victorious and know that although the boys are just learning now they are taking the right steps to becoming the Varsity team of a few years hence? All of our learning and fun are just to prepare us to go on into high school and finally to go up those last few steps which we will mount as a student at Mariemont, and receive our diploma.

WHISTLES

A shrill, high toned blast came out of the air,
A tone that got down to the roots of my hair.
It's the blast of a whistle, come from afar.
It comes from the shipyard way over there.

Nick Ingram

WAKE UP

Time to get up says your pup
Your ma and pa are saying, "yup"
Brother Will says, "Come on Joe"
But I still insist, "No, no, no."

Douglas Hunter

THE RIVER

The river winds like a writhing snake, till it comes to its end which is a lake.
It goes right on through flood and storm, and quiets down at the break of morn.
Away it goes through hill and dale,
in it you'll find fish, but never a whale.
The river has no definite plan, so away it goes across the land.

Jr. G.A.A. meets every Thursday for fun and recreation. Sports, such as volleyball, basketball, and kickball are played each week. Swimming at Withrow is offered monthly. This year Jr. G.A.A. sponsored a Christmas party and a square dance, "The Barnyard Hoedown." Both were successful and lots of fun.

junior high band

The fifteen members of the Junior Band were preparing themselves this year in order to play with the Senior Band. Once this year the Junior Band marched with the Senior Band at a football game. At the end of the year the band played in a concert with others schools.

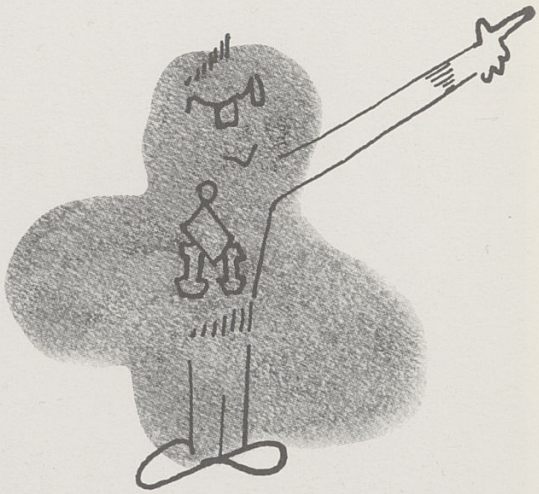
jr. hi football

This year the Junior High Football Team won the Eastern Hills League Football championship. We won three games and dropped one in league play. Outside the league, we lost to Wyoming 19-14, giving us a record of 3-2.

Doug Kleine



jr. hi basketball

The Mariemont Junior High Basketball Team, coached by Mr. D. Shafer, began the season on a losing note, being beaten by Anderson in our first game. However, we came back to overcome Mulberry, New Richmond, and Newtown.

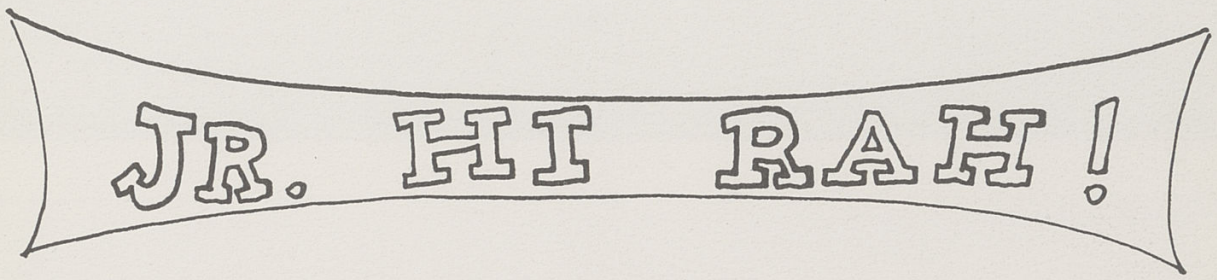
jr. high chorus

President ..... Chary Caven
V. Pres. ..... Randy Adams
Secretary ..... Phil Reynolds
Director ..... C. D. Allread

The Junior High Chorus, standing seventy members strong, was one of the biggest choruses in the history of the school. Because of the fact that we met at 6:30 on Thursday evenings, it seemed that one half was still swallowing the last of their dinner as the first song began. Still, in spite of everything, we all enjoyed our forty-five minutes of singing with our director, Mr. Allread. All this practice paid off, however, when we appeared in the Christmas Assembly, Spring Concert, Easter Program, and the Baccalaureate service.

Margaret Treece



jr. high baseball

The 1957 Jr. High Baseball Team played an abbreviated schedule because of weather conditions. The boys practiced hard in preparation for future membership on the high school team. The team was ably coached by Mr. Davies.

Bob Baden

jr. high track

Through hard work and much effort on the part of the boys this year, Jr. High Track team did very well.

In the M.V.I.L. meet, we finished only 1 1/3 points behind the first place team.
