

I picked it up on my radiograph set! There I was, sitting in the transmitting room of Glazark Laboratory, Planet Martiana, tinkering with the earphones and it started coming through! I couldn't believe it, but—sure enough, there was the voice of my old classmate, Carl McCallum, broadcasting from WLW Cincinnati. He was giving the annual report of the Class of '55. Having passed twenty years without hearing of these old buddies, I settled back to hear what had happened to them since I left Earth on June 17, 1955. I adjusted the "phones" and heard as follows:

Nan Cosby—hot rod driver at Glen Este.
 Dee Towne—star vocalist on "Hillbilly Hit Parade".
 Jane Averill—tuba player in Salvation Army Band.
 Mary Jane Kalbach—light pole inspector.
 Charlene Ator—dog catcher for city pound.
 Fred Brandt—stretching steel for bicycle spokes.
 Gene Brill, Pete Kuempel—Perfecting guided missiles in Mr. Tappan's laboratory.
 Charles Bronson—professional pallbearer.
 Bill Cartwright—deep sea diver.
 Steve Gerard—left fielder for New York Giants.
 Charles Lingo—stunt act in circus, riding motor bike.
 Bob Loomis—professional pick-pocket.
 Jerry Mullenix—ace test pilot for U.S. Navy.
 Theard Parsons—manager of Mainliner.
 Jim Pollock—reciting poetry on "Moon River."
 Bill Rea—owns a "weasel" farm.
 Gene Shea—rack polisher at Robert Hall's.
 Don Swallen—mattress tester for his father.
 Jim Verdin—Hamilton County Sheriff.
 Fred Johns—Flour dipper for Nabisco.
 Judy Armstrong—locker lady at Coney Island.
 June Bennett—lifeguard at Miami Beach.
 Carol Buschbacher—overseas correspondent.
 Sharon Bush—screen washer at United Nations Building.
 Sandy Young—proprietor of Yale Plumbing Company.
 Pat McCracken—cigar tester for White Owl.
 Carolee Toon—editor of a lovelorn column.
 Joyce Crawford—salesgirl at Max's.
 Kay Huber—new manager of minute carwash.
 Betsy Ludwig—conductor of Philharmonic.
 Beverly Elias—putting up stiff competition for Harry James.
 Jean Rahn—senator from Ohio.
 Betty Seely—replacing Mary Hartline on Super Circus.
 Sue Puterbaugh—promoted to supervising counter at Mariemont Theater.
 Barb Smith—first woman ambassador to South America.

Marcia Pickens—turtle breeder.
 Ruby Lemon—experienced bare-back rider.
 Charlene Kuhner—professional pole-vaulter.
 Betty Simpson—selling egg beaters to African Cannibals.
 Darlene Hill—prefecting chlorophyll onions.
 Jo Ann Cruse—just returned from swimming the English Channel.
 Janice Frankenfield—sweeps out coo-coo clocks.
 Ethel Payne—owns Wee Tee Golf Course.
 Ginger DeRose—lady barber.
 Charlene Nugent—dean of girls at U.C.
 Kate Wilder—observer for flying saucers.
 Patsy Frigge—atomic scientist at Oakridge Tennessee.
 Marie Root—woman taxi driver.
 Janice Massman—works for S.P.C.A.
 Joan Marshall—takes over her father's band.
 Sylvia Hoffmeyer—raises parakeets.
 Jonne Clinger—caddy at Terrace Park Country Club.
 Don Merriam—giving mambo lessons at Arthur Murray's.
 Jim Cook—Master of Ceremonies on "Bride to Be."
 Leigh Ansell—head salesman at Max's.
 Bill Bausmith—uranium tycoon.
 Joe Fieno—football coach at Michigan State.
 Bill Osswald—married with ten children.
 Craig Runyan—radio announcer for "Fluffy-Wuffy Cleansing Tissues."
 Fred Hempel—seen throwing out a line on the end of a pier.
 Fred Reinhardt—returning from a safari in Africa.
 Denny Koch—last seen in Alaska where he was "playing it cool."
 Ray Thompson—sports commentator.
 Bob Bright—piano-player at the Copa Cabana.
 Ed Kerr—dances while Bob Bright plays.
 Vernon Brown—married to a lady wrestler.
 Ralph Budai—head chef at Gormet Room.
 Alvin Bisher—trapeze artist in circus.
 Jim Bowman—owner of new modernized Humpty Dumpty.
 Hannelore Steffen, Joyce Mullins, Ellen Wampler—mural painters for the English Department of the State Board of Education.
 Ellen Sellman—janitor at Purcell.
 Pretzel Towey—tap dance instructor at Harris Rosedales'.
 Louise Root—published a new book, "How To Win Friends and Influence People."