

Knowledge Comes, But Wisdom

Cum Laude

The Cum Laude Society is a national organization whose purpose is to honor scholastic achievement. Mariemont High School, one of six schools in the area to possess a charter, received its charter in 1956. The members of Cum Laude are elected in the spring of their Senior year. To be eligible for membership, a senior must maintain a 3.5 or better grade average through his senior high school years.

Students elected to National Honor Society have received the greatest possible honor the school can give. The four points upon which the election is based are scholarship, character, leadership, and service. Only when a person has proven himself worthy in all these qualifications can he be accepted.
