

Went On and On.

The prom started about 6:00 p.m. with informal dinners given by the juniors and seniors. After everyone stuffed themselves and had an ice battle, they went home to get ready for the big formal dance. The dance was from 9:00 P.M. to 1:00 A.M., with music by the Clyde Trask band. Around midnight everybody made a mad rush for more food. Everyone dashed home once again, but only to change into warm, informal attire; then down to the public landing for a boat-ride on the Chaperone from 2:00 to 5:00 A.M. Sleepy-eyed, but still awake and determined when the Chaperone docked, the group headed back to Mariemont for breakfast at the Recreation Building. Finally the group headed for home to catch a few short hours of sleep before going out to Coney for swimming, riding, and picnicking. Once more the crowd returned home to eat and change; then back to Coney for dancing at Moonlite. The "wee hours" of Sunday morn found many Mariemont students tired, but happy; and all agreed that this Prom week-end had been a gloriously wonderful one.

Sociability is a big part.

And the band played on...and on.

Ah! . . . the warm sun . . . last night seems so far away.
