

present-day moeller students are the beneficiaries of the great work of the pioneer students and faculty members organized by brother eveslage many years ago. looking over the record of achievements, one is truly impressed with all that has been and is presently being accomplished. today our students tend to take a lot for granted, but when time is taken to review the past, a new dimension enters the picture. organization, stimulation, direction, zeal, all played an important part in the whole picture of all achievements; but the frame of the picture is sacrifice - sacrifice of individuals for the common good of all. moeller is a great school because it was built on, and directed with, the spirit of self-sacrifice.

L.R. Krusling

