● "Give me that copy!" "Where's the dictionary?" "That paragraph's too long!" Anyone who has looked in the Tower News room during the sixth period or after school has probably asked, "What on earth is going on in there?" If he had stopped to find out, he would have seen editor Pat Newbold working with advisor Marvin Renshaw, who recently replaced Mr. Beacham, in preparing next week's paper. These members of Tower News have done a splendid job directing the publishing of this fine school paper.
