

's advertisers

in the lunchroom and at home—and other products manufactured by well established companies—are here in this section. Notice something else about the ads? Most of them are built around pictures of you and your friends. Don't you agree that this section lives up to its reputation for originality?