

THE ANNUAL LITERARY STAFF GATHERS FOR A CONFERENCE ON NEXT DEADLINE

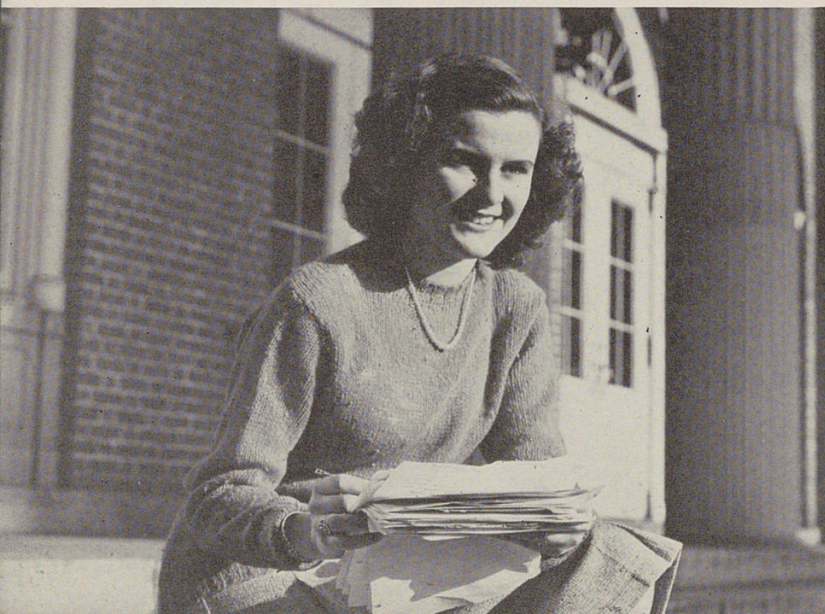

Very conscientiously a Literary Staff member busily searches for identification of some club picture. After the identifying is completed, he does the write-up accompanying the photo. Once finished, he submits his story for correction, typing, and completion; thus, after patience and care, the write-up goes to press.

The Annual Literary Staff, under the direction of Harriet Aeschbach, editor, and Mrs. Mildred Ladley, advisor, has weathered well the storms that come with publishing a yearbook. The late hours and innumerable tasks are finally justified when the pride and joy of the staff is handed to Withrow students.
