

MR. GARNER SROFE, American history teacher, guides Philologia and helps U. C. student teachers with their careers in social studies.

MR. RUSSELL STEARNS is busy with his machanical drawing and printing classes. The latter print football scheduals, and athletic tickets.

MR. Carl Stephany, biology teacher in charge of locker keys, is interested in minerology and astronomy and finds time to play the fiddle.

MRS. ILO STOSE, Junior High art teacher, who abhors sloppy clothes and who loves to read, greets her pupils with a smile each day.

MISS JESSIE B. STRATE, besides teaching social studies, has found time to do extensive traveling. She enjoys reading and plays bridge.

MISS HELEN TAYLOR, teacher of physiology and English, sponsors G. A. A. and en'joys music and "theater-going," as her hobbies.

MISS JEAN TILFORD, teacher of Ameriacn history and problems of democracy, sponsors Tower-Y. Walking and sketching fill some of her free hours.

If MISS MARJORIE VANCE isn't teaching cooking or Chemistry, she may be found indulging in her hobbies cooking, or taking a trip.

MR. KENNETH VORDENBURG, science teacher, gives many young Newtons a helping. When not sponsoring clubs, he goes horseback riding.

MISS MAXINE WALKER teaches social studies and English. She likes fishing and farming, and is advisor of the Junior High girls.

MISS ESTELLE WALKER, a teacher of Household Arts in Junior Hight, finds relaxation in her gardening.

MISS MARY WEINLAND, is the teacher of the oral class in the Junior High.

MISS ANNE WILLIAMS teaches English. She likes to play golf, although she says she is not very proficient.

MR. WILLIAM WILSON—Mathematical wizards invariably receive bracing effects from the witty joks and remarks uttered by this teacher.

MR. RAY WIRTH comes from the boy's gym to conduct a class in physiology. His fondest dream is a championship swimming team.

A strange concoction—the mixing of recipes and traveling may seem, but MISS LEONA WOOD finds the combination a delicious dish.

MISS JUNE WOOD, an English teacher and sponsor of Withrow Players, spent last year teaching in Honolulu, Hawaii.

TEACHERS WHOSE PICTURES DO NOT APPEAR

MR. ROY L. ANDERSON, teaches civics and algebra.

MISS ADA GILLMAN teaches English.

MISS MAMIE KELLER teaches world and American History.

MISS STELLA WAGNER teaches English.

MISS KERN WALKER teaches Business English.