Sophomore and junior boys can always count on Mr. Vigard for helpful advice. As if his numerous duties as assistant principal were not enough, he is also responsible for managing the bookroom and the student store, both of which are housed in the same room on the first floor. Equally typical of the high quality of Withrow administrators, Miss Agerter, dean of girls, helps many puzzled pupils make the right decisions. The senior girls' honorary society, Dux Femina, is sponsored by Miss Agerter. Through her influence, high standards of scholastic achievement and service are maintained.

Withrow Junior High proudly claims Mr. Wilbur as its head. An assistant principal, he establishes junior high policies and the program of studies so that "Effies" and "E-flats" are prepared to meet the difficulties of senior high school. He trains, disciplines, and aids seventh and eighth graders.
