New school counselor and adviser of freshman boys, Mr. Rudolf has proved his worth by able handling of boys' study halls and junior vocational conferences. Coming from a smaller school, he says that he's walked endless halls and climbed countless flights of stairs at Withrow.

As adviser of freshmen girls, Miss Murphy, school counselor, helps them make out their annual programs. Under her wing, confused "freshies" soon become oriented to life at Withrow. Another duty for which she is recognized is her efficient supervision of Minstrel costumes.

Mrs. Konrad, the assistant to Miss Agerter, takes care of withdrawals, census, and study halls for girls. She is also the adviser of Tip Toppers, a post suiting her height. Her noteworthy ambition is to get all the girls to school on time just one day of the year. (It's never happened yet.)
