

thrills holds sway.

The spirited playing of the Withrow band offers competition for the most exciting of football jousts. Headed by the confident major and majorettes, formations such as the impressive "W" and tower are enacted at half-time. Stirring marches, shining brass, resplendent orange and black uniforms—yes, this must be the band. It rates a special place in the heart of every student.

Macklin gains on end run, but Central stuns Orange and Black.

These cheerleaders raise the spirit—students raise the roof.

The succession of lines, angles, and curves fashioned by the band suggests the shifting patterns of wind-ruffled water.
