The crack of rifle fire resounds through the Reading Armory. The Withrow Rifle Club, led by President Ron Silber, is on one of its Wednesday visits to test its skill and compete with other schools. The instructor, Mr. Hanners, encourages the boys during the contests and advises at the weekly meetings. Whether freezing mercury or dropping leaded balls from the tower as Mr. Galileo did, the bimonthly meetings of the Physics Club, presided over by Bruce McIntosh, are scientifically stimulating to Mr. Howe's acute teen-agers.
