

Sue rides high in the acrobatic finale of the Teen Tone's Specialty for Minstrel Tryouts, "Go West, Little Girl, Go West."

For weeks the committees have worked, planned, dreamed, and practiced. The big moment finally arrives. The curtain rises; a feeling of tension surrounds the performers as they gaze out beyond the footlights into the inky blackness which surrounds the faces of the audience. Will the combined efforts of teachers, students, stage hands, and cast turn out another triumph? The question is soon answered by the loud applause at the finish. What a thrill it is to realize that another successful production has been completed.