

Head "bookworm" and caretaker of the bookroom is affable Glenn Burrell, who at the moment is acting the part of "teacher's little helper" by diligently searching in dusty corners for a lost book—two or more?

Although munching on the tip of a pencil does not always help the brain to begin its work toward dreaded assignments, it is a wondrous aid in daydreaming.

our best to mankind; to accept defeat

