

The Harvard Book Award for a deserving junior goes to Ed Heiser.

Looking for a cloud with a silver lining? Withrow gives some away every year on Awards Day, but the silver in these clouds is refined with determination and drive, and every cloud is formed by sweat and strain. Some clouds have college embroidered in their folds. Others hold that cherished thrill, the call of Dux Femina or Sigma Gamma. But all reveal that only those students who labor long are rewarded.

Smiles and tears are combined as Dux and Sig welcome the new members.

victory—these are our highest aims.
