

Never to be forgotten in the hearts of all Withrow students are the memories of kindness and generosity shown to his pupils by one of Withrow's outstanding teachers, Clayton Howe. Even though "Brother Howe" has retired, his image will remain.

Selecting another branch of the tree of education, Mr. Howe has answered the call to ministry and is aiming in his work to inspire spiritually the young and old in his congregation and bring to them the courage and faith that makes his own life so full.
